

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE.

HE Plan of the following Mifcellany may justly be considered as entirely new. Our Design was to form a Collection of such small, but valuable, Poetical Pieces, written by Gentlemen of Oxford, as never before appeared together; and which being hitherto published separately, or, as it were, by Accident, would otherwise have been overlooked and forgotten, partly for want of Length, and partly from their Manner of Publication. Attempst these, are interspersed several Pieces, of the greatest Merit, never before printed. This Stock of Materials, which All will allow to be bigbly feasoned, thus carefully felected, and happily blended, we have ventured, with some Degree of Propriety, to present to the Public, under the Name of The Oxford Sausage.

Our principal Aim, has been to collect Poems of Humour and Burlesque. And in Conformity to this Intention, our Cuts, for which the most able Masters have been engaged, are engraved in the same Style. On these Considerations, our Sausage, we presume, will not only gratify the Palate, but, if the old and approved Proverb, Laugh and be Fat, be true, will at the same Time contribute to make our Readers Thrive. All such Persons, therefore, as are grown thin, by too much Study, Fasting, and low Spirits, if they would improve their Constitution, and mend their Habit, are hereby invited to partake of this cheap, delicious, and salutary, Morsel. As to Readers of a more genial Complexion, and a more joyous Disposition, we need not doubt of being favoured with their Company. In the mean Time it is declared, that we do not mean by our Title to exclude any particular Sect or Denomination of People. For Jews, as well as Christians, may feed on our Sausage, without hurting their Consciences.

In order to render the following Miscellany complete, no Pains have been spared in procuring Pieces, and no Refources have been left unexplored. That nothing might escape us, we have even examined the indefatigable Dr. Rawlinfon's voluminous Collection of Manu-fcripts lately presented to the Bodleian Library. But, we must acknowledge, without Success; as not one poignant Ingredient was to be found in all that immense Heap of rare and invaluable Originals. Indeed, our chief Assistance has been from some curious and ingenious Members of the University of Oxford, who have made it their Business to preserve such fugitive Pieces, as were best adapted to this Design.

Many Conjectures, we apprehend, will be formed, concerning the Collector of this Work. Some will probably suspect him to be that whimfical Genius who compiled the Companion to the Guide; while Others will perhaps guess him to be the same with the well-bred and humourous Writer of the late Terræ Filius. But these sagacious Investigators will have found found out nothing, even if they should succeed thus far in their Conjectures: as most unluckily the Author of those Pieces will never be known. Notwithstanding, whoever shall be so happy as to make this Discovery, and will, on unquestionable Proof, deliver in the Collector's REAL Name, to Mr. Jackson, Printer, in the High-street, Oxford, or to Mr. James Fletcher at the Oxford Theatre, in St. Paul's Church Yard, shall receive, as a Reward for unriddling this Mystery, and on Condition that the Secret go no further, Twelve Sausages, nearly bound, gilt, and lettered.

It may be proper, in this Place, to advertise our Readers, that great Part of this Work was printed off, when we were so unfortunate as to lose the facetious Mr. Benjamin Tyrrell, Cook, in the High Street.

Street, Oxford. This fatal and unexpected Blow has retarded the Publication of our Miscellany for some little Time: but it is hoped that Ben's Cookery, which makes no inconsiderable Figure in this Work, will still continue to be relished by all Readers of true Taste.

It was intended, by Way of Frontispiece, to prefix to this Publication, an elegant Engraving of Mother Spreadbury's Head, the original Inventress of the true Oxford Sausage. But as no striking Likeness of that celebrated Matron could be procured in Time, we are obliged to defer gratifying the Public in this Particular, till the Appearance of our next Edition.

V.ERSES

OCCASIONED BY

BEN TYRRELL'S MUTTON PIES.

ADVERTISEMENT.

ALL ye that love what's nice and rarish,
At Oxford, in St. Mary's Parish,
BEN TYRRELL, Cook of high Renown,
To please the Palates of the Gown,
At Three-pence each, makes MUTTON-PIES,
Which thus he begs to advertise:
He welcomes all his Friends at Seven,
Each Saturday and Wedn'sday Even.

[•] Mr. TYRRELL, Cook, in the High-street, Oxford, having formed a laudable Design of obliging the University with Mutton Pies, twice a Week; this Advertisement appeared, on that Occasion, in the Oxford Journal, Nov. 25th, 1758.

No Relicks stale, with Art unjust, Lurk in Disguise beneath his Crust; His Pies, to give you all fair Play, Smoak only when 'tis Market-Day: And all must own, how fresh his Meat, While Jolly's Porter crowns the Treat.

If Rumps and Kidneys can allure ye,

Ben takes upon him to affure ye,

No Cook shall better hit the Taste,

In giving Life and Soul to Paste.

If cheap and good have Weight with Men,

Come all ye Youths, and sup with Ben.

If Liquor in a Mutton-Pie

Has any Charms, come taste and try!

O bear me Witness, Ist' Sons!

Pierce but the Crust—the Gravy runs:

The Taster licks his Lips, and cries,

"O RARE BEN Tyrrell's Mutton Pres!"

But hold—no more—I've faid enough— Or else my Pies may prove—a Puff. (19)

BEN TYRRELL's, Wednesday Night, December 6th, 1758.

HOW I congratulate fair Ifis,
That such the Taste for Mutton Pies is! Hail glorious BEN! whose Genius high First plann'd a genuine MUTTON PIE! Born to combine with matchless Taste. The Charms of Pepper and of Patte! Was but the Motion of my Pen Quick as thy Rolling-Pin, O BEN! O, could my Thoughts thy Pastry ape, And slide, like yielding Dough, to Shape; My Genius, like thy Oven glow, My Numbers, like thy Gravy flow; Or, in the Twinkling of an Eye, I cook an Ode --- as you a Pie; O then (nor think, to mock thy Trade, My Promises of Pie-Crust made) ----I'd raife thy culinary Fame Above immortal Spreadbury's Name: Though from all Cooks, a Matron wife, In Saulages she bore the Prize: Her feasoning Hand should yield to thine, Thy Mutter should her Pork outshine.

Nor shall the Muse esteem it Folly,

To blend with thine the Praise of Jolly . Thy lov'd Compeer! cogenial Friend! Who mild, when Evening Shades descend, Imparts the froth-crown'd Porter's Aid. · To smooth the ferious Brow of Trade: Both shall together mount the skies, The PORTER his --- but thine the PIES. Thine is the House, dear BEN to call at. Or for the Pocket or the Palate. For thee, the Citizen and Cit Their cold boil'd Beef and Carrots quit: Grave Aldermen, ambitious, share In Alma Mater's claffic Faie: . The blooming Toasts of Oxford Town Catch the Contagion of the Gown, And wish the wonted Evining nigh, To have a Finger in the Pie. As so enticing TYRRELL's House is, Send not too late ye pregnant Spoules! Think of the Midwife's vast Surprize. To fee Boys mark'd with Mutton Pies! If this the universal Taste is What will become of Ven'son Pasties?

^{*} CAPTAIN JOLLY, who, pro Bom Publice, first reduced the Price of Porter in Oxford, from 6 d, to 4 d, a Quart.

What

What of the Cates, which many a Maiden,
For the next Christmas Cheer has laid in?
Sure all with BEN will sup and dine,
And leave their CHRISTMAS PIES for THINE.

ΠΙΟΦΙΛΟΣ.

EPIGRAM, occasioned by a supposed extraordinary Phenomenon in MIDWIFERY.

T.

SAGE Woods! though many a Dark Affair
Be known to thy discerning Eyes;
E'en You, with all your Skill, must stare,
"To see Boys mark'd with Mutton Pies?"
B 3 II. What

II.

What if our Wives, with equal Glee,
In Thought a Saufage should enjoy;
Say, would you wonder much, to see
The Mother's Longings mark the Boy?

On BEN TYRRELL'S Pies.

LET Christmas boast her customary Treat,
A Mixture strange, of Suet, Currants, Meat,
Where various Tastes combine, the greasy, and the sweet.

Let glad Sbrowe-Tuesday bring the Pancake thin,
Or Fritter rich, with Apples stor'd within:
On Easter-Sunday be the Pudding seen,
To which the Tansey lends her sober Green:
And when great London hails her annual Lord,
Let quiv'ring Custard crown the Aldermannic Board.

But BEN prepares a more delicious Mess, Substantial Fare, a Breakfast for Queen Bess. What dainty Epicure, or greedy Glutton, Would not prefer bis Pie, that's made of Mutton?

Each diff'rent Country boasts a diff'rent Taste, And owe's it's Fame to Pudding or to Passe:

SQUAB

SQUAB PIE in Cornwall only can they make, In Norfolk DUMPLING, and in Salop CAKE; But Oxford now from all shall bear the Prize, Fam'd, as for Saufages, for MUTTON-PIES.

MUTTON PIES for the Assizes. March 1, 1760.

BEHOLD, once more, facetious Ben,
Steps from his Paste, — to take the Pen; And as the Trumpets, shrill and loud, Precede the Sheriff's Javelin'd Crowd, So Ben before-hand advertises His snug-laid Scheme for the Assizes. Each of the Evenings, BEN proposes With Pies fo nice to smoak your Noses: No Cost, as heretofore, he grudges, He'll stand the Test of able Judges; And think, that when the Hall is up, How cheap a Juryman may Sup! For Lawyers Clerks, in Wigs fo smart, A tight warm Room is set apart. -My Masters eke, (might Ben advise ye) Detain'd too long at Nizey Prizey, Your College Commons lost at Six, ----At BEN's the jovial Evening fix;

From

From * Tripe-Indentures, stale, and dry, Escap'd to Porter and a Pie. Hither, if ye have any Taste, Ye BOOTED EVIDENCES haste! Ye Lasses too, both tall and slim, In Riding Habits dress'd so trim, Who, usher'd by some Young Attorney, Take, each Affize, an Oxford Journey: All, who fubpæna'd on th' Occasion, Require genteel Accommodation, Oh haste to BEN's and fave your Fines You'd pay at Houses deck'd with Signs! Lo I, a Cook of Taste and Knowledge, And bred the Coquus of a College, Having long known the STUDENT'S Bounty. Now dare to cater for the County.

Come then, of BEN, O come, and buy All—As 'tis Assigned Fine, He'll stand Trial;
His Cause Success will surely crown,
His Witnesses—are ALL the Gown.

· I suppose BEN means tripartite.

These siwe Pieces are all that appeared on this Subject.

ODE to a GRIZZLE WIG.

By a Gentleman who had just left off his BOR.

A LL hail ye Curls, that rang'd in reverend Row, With snowy Pomp my conscious Shoulders hide! That fall beneath in venerable Flow,

And crown my Brows above with feathery Pride!

High on your Summit, Wisdom's mimick'd Air Sits thron'd, with Pedantry her solemn Sire, And in her Net of awe-diffusing Hair, Entangles Fools, and bids the Croud admire.

O'ex

O'er every Lock, that floats in full display, Sage Ignorance her Gloom scholastic throws; And stamps o'er all my Visage, once so gay, Unmeaning Gravity's serene Repose.

Can thus large Wigs our Reverence engage?
Have Barbers thus the Pow'r to blind our Eyes?
Is Science thus conferr'd on every Sage,
By Baylis, Blenkingsop, and lofty Wise?

But thou farewell, my Bos! whose thin-wove Thatch Was stor'd with Quips, and Cranks, and wanton Wiles, That love to live within the one-curl'd Scratch, With Fun, and all the Family of Smiles.

Safe in thy Privilege, near Isis' Brook,
Whole Afternoons at Wolvercote I quaff'd;
At Eve, my careless Round in High-street took,
And call'd at Jolly's for the casual Draught.

No more the Wherry feels my Stroke fo true; At Skittles, in a Grizzle, can I play? Woodflock, farewell, and Walling ford, adieu! Where many a Scheme reliev'd the lingering Day.

Such were the Joys that once Hilario crown'd, E'er grave Preferment came my Peace to rob:

Such are the less ambitious Pleasures found
Beneath the Liceat of an humble Box.

E P I S T L E,

From THOMAS HEARN, Antiquary,

To the AUTHOR of

The Companion to the Oxford Guide, &c.

'RIEND of the moss-grown Spire and crumbling Arch, no wont'st at Eve to pace the long-lost Bounds lonesome Oseney! What malignant Fiend y cloister-loving Mind, from antient Lore, ih base seduc'd? Urg'd thy apostate Pon.

To trench deep Wounds on Antiquaries fage,
And drag the venerable Fathers forth,
Victims to Laughter! Cruel as the Mandate
Of mitred Priests, who Baskett late enjoined
To throw aside the reverend Letters black,
And print Fast-Prayers in modern Type! — At this
Leland*, and Willis, Dugdale, Tanner, Wood,
Illustrious Names! with Camden, Aubrey, Lloyd,
Scald their old Cheeks with Tears! For once they hop'd
To seal thee for their own! And fondly deem'd
The Muses, at thy Call, would crowding come
To deck Antiquity with Flowrets gay.

But now may Curses every Search attend
That seems inviting! May'st thou pore in vain
For dubious Door-ways! May revengeful Moths
Thy Ledgers eat! May chronologic Spouts
Retain no Cypher legible! May Crypts
Lurk undiscern'd! Nor may'st thou spell the Names
Of Saints in storied Windows! Nor the Dates
Of Bells discover! Nor the genuine Site
Of Abbot's Pantries! And may Godstowe veil,
Deep from thy Eyes profanc, her Gothic Charms!

PROGRESS of DISCONTENT.

WRITTEN IN THE YEAR 1746.

X7HEN now, mature in classic Knowledge, The joyful Youth is fent to College, His Father comes, a Vicar plain, At Oxford bred - in Anna's Reign, And thus in Form of humble Suitor, Bowing, accosts a reverend Tutor.

- "Sir, I'm a Glo'stershire Divine,
- " And this my eldeft Son of nine;
- " My Wife's Ambition and my own
- "Was that this Child should wear a Gown:
- " I'll warrant that his good Behaviour
- "Will justify your future Favour;
- " And for his Parts, to tell the Truth,
- "My Son's a very forward Youth;
- " Has Horace all by heart you'd wonder -
- "And mouths out Homer's Greek like thunder.
- "If you'd examine and admit him,
- " A Scholarship would nicely fit him:
- "That he succeeds 'tis ten to one:
- "Your Vote and Interest, Sir!-'Tis done."

Our Pupil's Hopes, though twice defeated,
Are with a Scholarship compleated:
A Scholarship but half maintains,
And College Rules are heavy Chains:
In Garret dark he smokes and puns,
A Prey to Discipline and Duns;
And now intent on new Designs,
Sighs for a Fellowship —— and Fines.

When

When nine full tedious Winters past,
That utmost wish is crown'd at last:
But the rich Prize no sooner got,
Again he quarrels with his Lot:

- "These Fellowships are pretty Things,
- "We live indeed like petty Kings:
- "But who can bear to waste his whole Age
- " Amid the Dullness of a College,
- "Debarr'd the common Joys of Life,
- "And that prime Blifs a loving Wife!
- "O! what's a Table richly spread
- "Without a Woman at its Head!
- " Would some snug Benefice but fall,
- "Ye Feasts, ye Dinners! farewell all!
- "To Offices I'd bid adieu,
- " Of Dean, Vice-præs, of Burfar too;
- " Come Joys, that rural quiet yields,
- " Come Tythes, and House, and fruitful Fields!"

Too fond of Liberty and Ease
A Patron's Vanity to please,
Long Time he watches, and by Stealth,
Each frail Incumbent's doubtful Health;
At length——and in his fortieth Year,
A Living drops——two hundred clear!

ds/W

With Breast elate beyond Expression, He hurries down to take Possession. With Rapture views the sweet Retreat -"What a convenient House! how neat! " For Fuel here's sufficient Wood: " Pray God: the Cellars may be good! "The Garden — that must be new plann'd — "Shall these old-fashion'd Yew-trees stand? "O'er yonder vacant Plot shall rise "The flow'ry Shrub of thousand Dies: "Yon Wall, that feels the fouthern Ray, " Shall blush with ruddy Fruitage gay: "While thick beneath its Afpect warm " O'er well-rang'd Hives the Bees shall swarm, "From which, e'er long, of golden Gleam "Metheglin's luscious Juice shall stream: "This awkward Hutt, o'er-grown with Ivy, " "We'll alter to a modern Privy: "Up you green flope, of Hazels trim, "An Avenue fo cool and dim. " Shall to an Arbour at the End. "In spite of Gout, intice a Friend.

"My Predecessor lov'd Devotion —
"But of a Garden had no Notion."

Continuing

Continuing this fantastic Farce on,
He now commences country Parson.
To make his Character entire,
He weds — a Cousin of the 'Squire;
Not over weighty in the Purse,
But many Doctors have done worse:
And though she boasts no Charms divine,
Yet she can carve, and make Birch Wine.

Thus fixt, content he taps his Barrel, Exhorts his Neighbours not to quarrel; Finds his Church-wardens have Discerning Both in good Liquor and good Learning; With Tythes his Barns replete he sees, And chuckles o'er his Surplice-fees; Studies to find out latent Dues. And regulates the State of Pews; Rides a fleek Mare with purple Houfing, To share the monthly Club's carousing; Of Oxford Pranks facetious tells, And - but on Sundays - hears no Bells: Sends Presents of his choicest Fruit, And prunes himself each saples Shoot; Plants Colliflow'rs, and boafts to rear The earliest Melon of the Year;

Thinks Alteration charming Work is, Keeps Bantam Cocks, and feeds his Turkies; Builds in his Copfe a favourite Bench, And stores the Pond with Carp and Tench.—

But ah! too soon his thoughtless Breast By Cares domestic is opprest; And a third Butcher's Bill, and Brewing, Threaten inevitable Ruin: For Children fresh Expences yet, And Dicky now for School is sit.

- "Why did I fell my College Life
- " (He cries) for Benefice and Wife?
- "Return, ye Days! when endless Pleasure
- "I found in Reading, or in Leisure!
- "When calm around the common Room
- "I puff'd my daily Pipe's Perfume!
- "Rode for a Stomach, and inspected,
- " At annual Bottlings, Corks selected:
- "And din'd untax'd, untroubled, under
- "The Portrait of our pious Founder!
- "When Impositions were supply'd
- " To light my Pipe or footh my Pride!
- "No Cares were then for forward Peas
- " A yearly-longing Wife to please;

- " My Thoughts no Christ'ning Dinners crost,
- " No Children cry'd for butter'd Toaft;
- " And ev'ry Night I went to Bed,
- " Without a Modus in my Head!"

Oh! trifling Head, and fickle Heart!
Chagrin'd at whatfoe'er thou art;
A Dupe to Follies yet untry'd,
And fick of Pleasures scarce enjoy'd!
Each Prize posses'd, thy Transport ceases,
And in Pursuit alone it pleases.

A N EVENING CONTEMPLATION In a COLLEGE.

Being at PARODY on GRAY'S ELEGY in a COUNTRY CHURCH-YARD.

THE Curfew tolks the Hour of closing Gates, With jarring Sound the Porter turns the Key, Then in his dreamy Mansion slumb'ring waits, And slowly, sternly quits it...tho' for me.

Now

Now shine the Spires beneath the paly Moon, And through the Cloyster Peace and Silence reign; Save where some Fiddler scrapes a drowsy Tune, Or copious Bowls inspire a jovial Strain:

Save that in yonder cobweb-mantled Room, Where lies a Student in profound Repose, Oppress'd with Ale, wide-echoes thro' the Gloom The droning Music of his vocal Nose.

Within those Walls, where thro' the glimm'ring shade Appear the Pamphlets in a mould'ring Heap, Each in his narrow Bed till Morning laid, The peaceful Fellows of the College sleep.

The tinkling Bell proclaiming early Pray'rs, The noisy Servants rattling o'er their Head, The calls of Bufiness, and domestic Cares, Ne'er rouze these Sleepers from their downy Bed.

No chatt'ring Females crowd their focial Fire, No Dread have they of Discord and of Strife; Unknown the Names of Husband and of Sire, Unfelt the Plagues of matrimonial Life.

Oft have they bask'd along the sunny Walls,
Oft have the Benches bow'd beneath their Weight:
How jocund are their Looks when Dinner calls!
How smoke the Cutlets on their crowded Plate!

O let not Temp'rance too-disdainful hear How long our Feasts, how long our Dinners last; Nor let the Fair with a contemptuous Sneer On these unmarry'd Men Reslections cast!

The splendid Fortune and the beauteous Face (Themselves confess it and their Sises bemoan) Too soon are caught by Scarlet and by Lace: These Sons of Science shine in Black alone.

Forgive, ye Fair, th' involuntary Fault, If these no Feats of Gayety display, Where through proud Ranelagh's wide-echoing Vault Melodious Frast trills her quav'ring Lay.

Say, is the Sword well suited to the Band, Does broider'd Coat agree with sable Gown, Can Dresden's Laces Shade a Churchman's Hand, Or Learning's Vot'ries age the Beaux of Town?

Perhaps in these time-tott'ring Walls reside Some who were once the Darlings of the Fair; Some who of old could Tastes and Fashions guide, Controll the Manager and awe the Play'r.

But Science now has fill'd their vacant Mind With Rome's rich Spoils and Truth's exalted Views; Fir'd them with Transports of a nobler Kind, And bade them slight all Females... but the Muse.

Full many a Lark, high-tow'ring to the Sky, Unheard, unheeded greets th' Approach of Light; Full many a Star, unfeen by mortal Eye, With twinkling Lustre glimmers thro' the Night.

Some future Herring; that with dauntless Breast Rebellion's Torrent shall like him oppose; Some mute, some thoughtless Hardwicke here may rest, Some Pelbam dreadful to his Country's Foes.

From Prince and People to command Applause, 'Midst ermin'd Peers to guide the high debate, To shield Britannia's and Religion's Laws, And steer with steady Course the Helm of State,

Fate yet forbids; nor circumscribes alone Their growing Virtues, but their Crimes confines; Forbids in Freedom's Veil t'insult the Throne, Beneath her Mask to hide the worst Designs,

To fill the madding Crowd's perverted Mind With "Pensions, Taxes, Marriages, and Jews;" Or shat the Gates of Heav'n on lost Mankind, And wrest their darling Hopes, their suture Views.

Far from the giddy Town's tumultuous Strife, Their Wishes yet have never learn'd to stray; Content and happy in a single Life They keep the noiseless Tenor of their Way.

E'en now their Books from Cobwebs to protect, Inclos'd by Doors of Glass, in Doric Style, On fluted Pillars rais'd, with Bronzes deck'd, They claim the passing Tribute of a Smile.

Oft are the Authors' Names, tho' richly bound, Mif-spelt by blund'ring Binders' want of Care; And many a Catalogue is strow'd around, To tell th' admiring Guest what Books are there.

For who, to thoughtless Ignorance a Prey, Neglects to hold short Dalliance with a Book? Who there but wishes to prolong his Stay, And on those Cases casts a ling'ring Look?

Reports attract the Lawyer's parting Eyes, Novels Lord Fopling and Sir Plume require; For Songs and Plays the Voice of Beauty cries, And Sense and Nature Grandison desire.

For thee, who mindful of thy lov'd Compeers Dost in their Lines their artless Tales relate, If chance, with prying Search, in future Years, Some Antiquarian shall enquire thy Fate,

Haply some Friend may shake his hoary Head, And tay, ' Each morn, unchill'd by Frosts, he ran

The P H A E T O N, AND THE ONE HORSE CHAIR.

A T Blagrave's once upon a Time,
There stood a Phaeton sublime:
Unsullied by the dusty Road
It's Wheels with recent Crimson glow'd;

• Well known at Oxford for letting out Carriages, 1763.

It's Sides display'd a dazzling Hue,
It's Harness tight, it's Lining new:
No scheme-enamour'd Youth, I ween,
Survey'd the gaily deck'd Machine,
But sondly long'd to seize the reins,
And whirl o'er Campsfield's † tempting Plains.
Meantime it chanc'd, that hard at hand
A ONE HORSE CHAIR had took it's Stand;
When thus our Vehicle begun
To sneer the luckless Chaise and One.

Within thy vulgar Atmosphere?
From classic Ground pray shift thy Station,
Thou Scorn of Oxford Education!
Your homely Make, believe me, Man,
Is quite upon the Gothic Plan;
And you, and all your clumsy Kind,
For lowest Purposes design'd:
Fit only, with a one-ey'd Mare,
To drag, for Benefit of Air,
The country Parson's pregnant Wise,
Thou Friend of dull domestic Life!
Or, with his Maid and Aunt, to School
To carry Dicky on a Stool:

† In the Road to Blenbeim.

Or, haply to some Christening gay, A brace of Godmothers convey. — Or, when bleft Saturday prepares For London Tradesmen Rest from Cares. 'Tis thine to make them happy one Day, Companion of their genial Sunday! 'Tis thine, o'er Turnpikes newly made, When timely Show'rs the Dust have laid, To bear some Alderman serene To fragrant Hampstead's sylvan scene. Nor higher scarce thy Merit rises Among the polish'd Sons of Isis. Hir'd for a folitary Crown, Canst thou to Schemes invite the Gown? Go, tempt some Prig, pretending Taste, With Hat new cock'd, and newly lac'd, O'er Mutton-chops, and scanty Wine, At humble Dorchester to dine! Meantime remember, lifeless Drone! I carry Bucks and Bloods alone. And oh! whene'er the Weather's friendly, What Inn at Abingdon or Henly, But still my vast Importance feels, And gladly greets my entering Wheels. And think, obedient to the Thong, How you gay Street we smoak along:

While All with envious Wonder view The Corner turn'd fo quick and true."

To check an Upstart's empty Pride, Thus sage the ONE Horse Chair reply'd.

" Pray, when the Consequence is weigh'd. What's all your Spirit and Parade? From Mirth to Grief what fad Transitions. To broken Bones and Impositions! Or if no Bones are broke, what's worfe. Your Schemes make work for Glass and Nourse. -On Us pray spare your keen Reproaches, From One Horse Chairs Men rise to Coaches & If calm Discretion's stedfast Hand. With cautious Skill the Reins command. From me fair Health's fresh Fountain springs, O'er me soft Suugness spreads her Wings; And Innocence reflects her Ray To gild my calm sequester'd Way: E'en Kings might quit their State to share Contentment and a One Horse Chair. What though, o'er yonder echoing Street Your rapid Wheels resound so sweet; Shall Isis' Sons thus vainly prize A RATTLE of a larger Size?

BLAGRAVE

BLAGRAVE, who during the Dispute,
Stood in a Corner, snug and mute,
Surpriz'd, no Doubt, in losty Verse,
To hear his Carriages converse,
With solemn Face, q'er Ouford Ale,
To me disclos'd this wonderous Tale:
I firsit dispatch'd it to the Muse,
Who brash'd it up for Jackson's News,
And, what has oft' been penn'd in prose,
Added this Moral at the Close.

- "Things may be useful if obscure;
- "The Pace that's flow is often fure:
- "When empty Pageantries we prize,
- " We raise but Dust to blind our Eyes.
- " The GOLDEN MEAN can best bestow
- . Safety for unsubstantial Show.

THE SPLENDID SHILLING.

Things unattempted yet, in Profe or Rhime,
A SHILLING, BREECHES, and CHIMERAS dire.

HAPPY the Man, who void of Cares and Strife,
In Silken or in Leathern Purse, retains
A SPLENDID SHILLING: He nor hears with Pain
New Oysters cry'd, nor sighs for chearful Ale;
But with his friends, when nightly Mists arise,
To Jun'per's Magpye, or Town-hall * repairs:

Two noted Alchouses in Oxford, 1700.

Where,

Where mindful of the Nymph, whose wanton Eye Transfix'd his Soul, and kindled amourous Flames. CLOR OF PHILLIS; he each circling Glass Wisheth her Health, and Joy, and equal Love. Mean while, he smokes, and laughs at merry Tale, Or Pun ambiguous, or Conundrum quaint. But I, whom griping Penury furrounds, And Hunger, fure Attendant upon Want, With scanty Offals, and small acid Tiff, (Wretched Repast!) my meagre Corps sustain: Then folitary walk, or doze at home In Garret vile, and with a warming Puff Regale chill'd Fingers; or from Tube as black As Winter-Chimney, or well-polished Jet, Exhale Mundungus, ill-perfuming Scent: Not blacker Tube, nor of a shorter Size, Smokes Cambro-Briton (vers'd in Pedigree, Sprung from Cadwaladur and Arthur, Kings Full famous in romantick Tale) when he O'er many a craggy Hill and barren Cliff, Upon a Cargo of fam'd Cestrian Cheese, High over-shadowing, rides, with a Design To vend his Wares, or at the Arvonian Mart, Or Maridunum, or the antient Town Yclep'd Brechinia, or where Vaga's Stream Encircles Ariconium, fruitful Soil!

Whence flow nectareous Wines, that well may vie With Massic, Setin, or renown'd Falern.

Thus, while my joyless Minutes tedious flow, With Looks demure, and filent Pace, a Dun, Horrible Monster! hated by Gods and Men, To my aërial Citadel ascends; With vocal Heel thrice thund'ring at my Gate, With hideous Accent thrice he calls: I know The Voice ill-boding, and the folemn Sound. What shou'd I do? or whither turn? Amaz'd, Confounded, to the dark Recess I fly Of Woodhole; strait my bristling Hairs erect Thro' fudden Fear; a chilly Sweat bedews My shud'ring limbs, and (wonderful to tell!) My Tongue forgets her Faculty of Speech; 'So horrible he feems! his faded Brow Entrench'd with many a Frown, and conic Beard, And spreading Band, admir'd by Modern Saints, Disastrous Acts forbode; in his Right Hand Long Scrolls of Paper folemnly he waves, With Characters, and Figures dire inscrib'd, Grievous to mortal Eyes; (ye Gods avert Such Plagues from righteous Men;) behind him stalks Another Monster not unlike himself, Sullen of Aspect, by the Vulgar call'd

A Catchpole, whose polluted Hands the Gods With Force incredible, and magick Charms Erst have endu'd; if he his ample Palm Should haply on ill-fated Shoulder lay Of Debtor, strait his Body, to the Touch Obsequious, (as whilom Knights were wont) To some inchanted Castle is convey'd, Where Gates impregnable, and coercive Chains In Durance strict detain him, till in Form Of Money, Pallas sets the Captive free.

Beware, ye Debtors, when ye walk, beware, Be circumfpect: oft with infidious Ken This Caitiff eyes your Steps aloof, and oft Lies perdue in a Nook or gloomy Cave, Prompt to inchant some inadvertent Wretch With his unhallowed Touch. So (Poets fing) Grimalkin to domestick Vermin sworn An everlafting Foe, with watchful Eye Lies nightly brooding o'er a chinky Gap, Protending her fell Claws, to thoughtless Mice Sure Ruin. So her disembowell'd Webb Arachne in a Hall, or Kitchen spreads, Obvious to vagrant Flies: She secret stands Within her woven Cell; the humming Prey, Regardless of their Fate, rush on the Toils Inextricabl D 2

Inextricable, nor will aught avail
Their Arts, or Arms, or Shapes of lovely Hue;
The Wasp insidious, and the buzzing Drone;
And Buttersly proud of expanded Wings
Distinct with Gold, entangled in her Snares,
Useless Resistance make: With eager Strides,
She tow'ring slies to her expected Spoils;
Then, with envenomed Jaws the vital Blood
Drinks of reluctant Foes, and to her Cave
Their bulky Carcasses triumphant drags.

So pass my Days. But when Nocturnal Shades
This World invelop, and th' inclement Air
Persuades Men to repel benumming Frosts
With pleasant Wines, and crackling Blaze of Wood;
Me, lonely sitting, nor the glimmering Light
Of make-weight Candle, nor the joyous Talk
Of loving Friend delights; distress'd, forlorn,
Amidst the Horrors of the tedious Night,
Darkling I sigh, and feed with dismal Thoughts
My anxious Mind; or sometimes mournful Verse
Indite, and sing of Groves and Myrtle Shades,
Or desperate Lady near a purling Stream,
Or Lover pendent on a Willow Tree.
Mean while I labour with eternal Drought,
And restless wish, and rave; my parched Throat

Finds no Relief, nor heavy Eyes Repofe:
But if a flumber haply does invade
My weary Limbs, my Fancy's still awake,
Thoughtful of Drink, and eager, in a Dream,
Tipples imaginary Pots of Ale,
In vain; awake I find the settled Thirst
Still gnawing, and the pleasing Fantom curse.

Thus do I live, from Pleasure quite debarr'd, Nor taste the Fruits that the Sun's genial Rays Mature, John-Apple, nor the downy Peach; Nor Walnut in rough-furrow'd Coat secure, Nor Medlar-Fruit, delicious in Decay: Afflictions great! yet greater still remain: My Galligaskins that have long withstood The Winter's Fury, and incroaching Frosts, By Time subdu'd, (what will not Time subdue!) An horrid Chasm disclose, with Orifice Wide, discontinuous; at which the Winds Eurus and Auster, and the dreadful Force Of Boreas, that congeals the Cronian Waves, Tumultuous enter with dire chilling Blasts, Portending Agues. Thus a well-fraught Ship Long sail'd secure, or thro' th' Ægean Deep, Or the Ionian, 'till cruising near The Lilybean Shore, with hideous Crush

On Scylla, or Charphdis (dang'rous Rocks!)
She strikes rebounding, whence the shatter'd Oak,
So sierce a Shock unable to withstand,
Admits the Sea; in at the gaping Side
The crowding Waves gush with impetuous Rage,
Resistles, overwhelming; Horrors seize
The Mariners, Death in their Eyes appears,
They stare, they lave, they pump, they swear, they pray:
(Vain Essorts!) still the battering Waves rush in,
Implacable, till delug'd by the Foam,
The Ship sinks sound'ring in the vast Abys.

D 4

My fober Ev'ning let the Tankard bless,
With Toast embrown'd, and fragrant Nutmeg fraught,
While the rich Draught with oft-repeated Whiss
Tobacco mild improves. Divine repast!
Where no crude Surfeit, or intemperate Joys
Of lawless Bacchus reign; but o'er my Soul
A Calm Lethean creeps; in drowsy Trance
Each Thought subsides, and sweet Oblivion wraps
My peaceful Brain, as if the leaden Rod
Of magic Morpheus o'er mine Eyes had shed
Its opiate Instuence. What tho' fore Ills
Oppress, dire Want of chill-dispelling Coals
Or chearful Candle, (save the Make-Weight's Gleam Haply remaining) heart-rejoicing Ale
Chears the sad Scene, and every Want supplies.

Meantime, not mindless of the daily Task
Of Tutor sage, upon the learned Leaves
Of deep Smiglecius much I meditate;
While Ale inspires, and lends its kindred Aid,
The thought-perplexing Labour to pursue,
Sweet Helicon of Logic! But if Friends
Cogenial call me from the toilsome Page,
To Pot-house I repair, the sacred Haunt,
Where, Ale, thy Votaries in full resort,
Hold Rites Nocturnal. In capacious Chair
Of monumental Oak and antique Mould,

That

That long has stood the Rage of conquering Years Inviolate, (nor in more ample Chair Smoaks rofy Justice, when th' important cause, Whether of Hen-rooft, or of mirthful Rape, In all the Majesty of Paunch he tries) Studious of Ease, and provident, I place My gladsome Limbs; while in repeated Round Returns replenish'd, the successive Cup, And the brisk Fire conspires to genial Joy: While haply, to relieve the ling'ring Hours In innocent Delight, amusive Putt On fmooth joint-stool in emblematic Play The vain vicifitudes of Fortune shews. Nor Reckoning, Name tremendous, me disturbs, Nor, call'd for, chills my Breast with sudden Fear; While on the wonted Door, expressive Mark, The frequent Penny stands describ'd to View, In fnowy Characters and graceful Row.—

Hail, TICKING! furest Guardian of Distress!

Beneath thy Shelter, pennyless I quast
The chearful Cup, nor hear with hopeless heart
New Oysters cry'd:—Tho' much the Poet's Friend,
Ne'er yet attempted in poetic Strain,
Accept this Tribute of poetic Praise!
Nor Proctor thrice with vocal Heel alarms
Our Joys secure, nor deigns the lowly Roof

Of Pot-house sinus to visit: wiser he
The splendid Tavern haunts, or Cossee-house.
Of James or Juggins, were the grateful Breath
Of loath'd Tobacco ne'er disfus'd its Balm;
But the lewd Spendthrist, falsly deem'd polite,
While steams around the fragrant Indian Bowl,
Oft damns the vulgar Sons of humbler Ale:
In vain—the Proctor's Voice arrests their Joys;
Just Fate of wanton Pride and loose Excess!

Nor less by Day delightful is thy Draught. All-pow'rful ALE! whose forrow-soothing Sweets Oft I repeat in vacant Afternoon, When tatter'd Stockings ask my mending Hand Not unexperienc'd; while the tedious Toil Slides unregarded. Let the tender Swain Each Morn regale on nerve-relaxing Tea, Companion meet of languor-loving Nymph: Be mine each Morn with eager Appetite And Hunger undissembled, to repair To friendly Buttery; there on smoaking Crust And foaming ALE to banquet unrestrained, Material Breakfast! Thus in ancient Days Our Ancestors robust with liberal Cups Usher'd the Morn, unlike the squeamish Sons Of modern Times: Nor ever had the Might Of Britons brave decay'd, had thus they fed, ith British ALE improving British worth. With ALE irriguous, undismay'd I hear he frequent Dun ascend my losty Dome portunate: Whether the plaintive Voice f Laundress shrill awake my startled Ear; r Barber spruce with supple Look intrude; r Taylor with obsequious Bow advance; r Groom invade me with defying Front ad stern Demeanour, whose emaciate Steeds. Vhene'er or Phœbus shone with kindlier Beams, r luckier Chance the borrow'd Boots supply'd) ad panted oft beneath my goring Steel. vain they plead or threat: All-powerful ALE ccuses new supplies, and each descends ith joyless Pace, and debt-despairing Looks: en SPACEY with indignant Brow retires, ercest of Duns! and conquer'd quits the Field. Why did the Gods fuch various Bleffings pour n hapless Mortals, from their grateful Hands foon the short-liv'd Bounty to recall? hus, while improvident of future Ill, quaff the luscious Tankard uncontroll'd, nd thoughtless riot in unlicenc'd Bliss; idden (dire Fate of all Things excellent!) h' unpitying Bursar's cross-affixing Hand afts all my Joys, and stops my glad Career.

Nor now the friendly Pot-house longer yields A sure Retreat, when Night o'ershades the Skies; Nor Sheppard, barbarous Matron, longer gives The wonted Trust, and Winter ticks no more.

Thus Adam, exil'd from the beauteous Scenes Of Eden griev'd, no more in fragrant Bow'r On Fruits divine to feast, fresh Shade and Vale No more to vifit, or vine-mantled Grot; But, all forlorn, the dreary Wilderness, And unrejoicing Solitudes to trace: Thus too the matchless bard, whose Lay resounds The Splendid Shilling's Praise, in nightly Gloom Of lonesome Garret, pin'd for chearful ALE; Whose Steps in Verse Miltonic I pursue, Mean Follower: like him with honest Love Of ALE divine inspir'd, and Love of Song. But long may bounteous Heav'n with watchful Care Avert his hapless Lot! Enough for me That burning with cogenial Flame I dar'd His guiding Steps at Distance to pursue, And fing his favorite Theme in kindred Strains, RECITATIVO.

Like NEPTUNE, CÆSAR guards VIRGINIAN Fleets,
Fraught with Tobacco's balmy Sweets;
Old Ocean trembles at BRITANNIA's Pow'r,
And Boreas is afraid to roar.

AIR.

Happy Mortal! he who knows Pleasure which a Pipe bestows; Curling Eddies climb the Room, Wasting round a mild persume.

RECITATIVO.

Let foreign Climes the Vine and Orange boaft, While Wastes of War deform the teeming coast; BRITANNIA, distant from each hostile found, Enjoys a Pipe, with Ease and Freedom crown'd; E'en restless Faction sinds itself most free, Or if a Slave, a Slave to Liberty.

II. Imitation of Mr. A. PHILLIPS.

Charmer of an idle Hour,
Charmer of an idle Hour,
Object of my warm Defire,
Lip of Wax, and Eye of Fire:
And thy facwy Taper Walt,
With my Finger gently brac'd;
And thy pretty swelling Crest,
With my little Stopper prest,

£aA

And the sweetest Bliss of Blisses,
Breathing from thy balmy Kisses.
Happy thrice, and thrice agen,
Happiest he of happy Men;
Who when agen the Night returns,
When agen the Taper burns;
When agen the Cricket's gay,
(Little Cricket, full of Play)
Can afford his Tube to feed
With the fragrant Indian Weed:
Pleasure for a Nose divine,
Incense of the God of Wine.
Happy thrice, and thrice agen,
Happiest he of happy Men.

III. Imitation of Mr. THOMPSON.

Thou, matur'd by glad Hesperian Suns,
TOBACCO, Fountain pure of limpid Truth,
That looks the very Soul; whence pouring Thought
Swarms all the Mind; absorpt is yellow Care,
And at each Puff Imagination burns.
Flash on thy Bard, and with exalting Fires
Touch the mysterious Lip that chaunts thy Praise,
In Strains to mortal Sons of Earth unknown.
Behold an Engine, wrought from tawny Mines

Of ductile Clay, with plastick Virtue form'd, And glaz'd magnifick o'er, I grasp, I fill. From PÆTOTHEKE with pungent Pow'rs perfum'd, Itself one Tortoise all, where shines imbib'd Each parent Ray; then rudely ram'd illume With the red Touch of zeal-enkindling Sheet, Mark'd with Gibsonian Lore: forth issue Clouds. Thought-thrilling, thirst-inciting Clouds around, And many-mining Fires: I all the while, Lolling at Ease, inhale the breezy Balm. But chief, when Bacchus wont with thee to join, In genial Strife and orthodoxal Ale, Stream Life and Joy into the Muses' Bowl. Oh be thou still my great Inspirer, thou My Muse; oh fan me with thy Zephyrs Boon, While I. in clouded Tabernacle shrin'd, Burst forth all Oracle and mystick Song.

IV. Imitation of Dr. Young.

CRITICKS avaunt; Tobacco is my theme; Tremble like Hornets at the blafting Steam. And you, Court-infects, flutter not too near Its Light, nor buzz within the scorching sphere. Pollio, with Flame like thine, my Verse inspire, So shall the Muse from Smoke elicit Fire.

Coxcombs

Coxcombs prefer the tickling Sting of Snuff; Yet all their Claim to Wisdom is - 2 Puff: Lord FOPLIN Smokes not - for his Teeth afraid: Sir Tawdry fmokes not - for he wears Brocade. Ladies, when Pipes are brought, affect to swoon; They love no Smoke, except the Smoke of Town; But Courtiers hate the puffing Tribe, - no Matter, Strange if they love the Breath that cannot flatter! Its foes but shew their Ignorance; can he Who scorns the Leaf of Knowledge, love the Tree! The tainted Templar (more prodigious yet) Rails at Tobacco, though it makes him - spit. CITRONIA vows it has an odious Stink: She will not smoke (ye Gods!) but she will drink: And chaste PRUDELLA (blame her if you can) Says, Pipes are us'd by that vile Creature Man: Yet Crouds remain, who still its Worth proclaim. While some for Pleasure smoke, and some for Fame: Fame, of our Actions universal Spring, For which we drink, eat, sleep, smoke, - ev'ry Thing.

V. Imitation of Mr. POPE.

DLEST Leaf! whose aromatick Gales dispense
To Templars Modesty, to Parsons Sense:
So raptur'd Priests, at fam'd Dodona's Shrine
Drank Inspiration from the Steam divine.

Poison that cures, a Vapour that affords Content, more folid than the Smile of Lords: Rest to the Weary, to the Hungry Food, The last kind Refuge of the Wise and Good. Inspir'd by thee, dull Cits adjust the Scale Of Europe's Peace, when other Statesmen fail. By thee protected, and thy Sister, Beer, Poets rejoice, nor think the Bailiff near. Nor less the Critick owns thy genial Aid. While supperless he plies the piddling Trade. What though to Love and foft Delights a Foe, By Ladies hated, hated by the Beau, Yet focial Freedom, long to Courts unknown, Fair Health, fair Truth, and Virtue are thy own. Come to thy Poet, come with healing Wings, And let me taste thee unexcis'd by Kings.

VI. Imitation of Dean Swift.

BOY! bring an Ounce of FREEMAN's best,
And bid the Vicar be my Guest:
Let all be plac'd in Manner due,
A Pot wherein to spit or spue,
And London Journal, and Free-Briton,
Of use to light a Pipe, or

This Village, unmolested yet By Troopers, shall be my Retreat: Who cannot flatter, bribe, betray; Who cannot write or vote for Pay. Far from the Vermin of the Town, Here let me rather live, my own, Doze o'er a Pipe, whose Vapour bland In fweet Oblivion lulls the Land. Of all which at Vienna passes, As ignorant as * * * Brass is: And scorning Rascals to cares, Extoll the Days of good Queen Bess, When first Tobacco blest our Isle. Then think of other Queens - and smile. Come jovial Pipe, and bring along Midnight Revelry and Song; The merry Catch, the Madrigal, That echoes sweet in City Hall; The Parson's Pun, the smutty Tale Of country Justice o'er his Ale. I ask not what the French are doing, Or Spain to compass Britain's Ruin: Britons, if undone, can go, Where Tobacco loves to grow.

What Joy attends a new-paid Debt!

Our Manciple I lately met

Of Visage wise and prudent;

I on the Nail my Battels paid,

The Monster turn'd away dismay'd.

Hear this, each Oxford Student!

With Justice and with Truth to trace
The griefly Features of his Face,
Exceeds all Man's recounting;
Suffice, he look'd as grim and four
As any Lion in the Tower,
Or half-starv'd Cat-a-Mountain.

THE

ART of PREACHING,

A FRAGMENT.

In Imitation of Horace's Art of Poetry.

By the late Rev. Christopher Pitt.

- - - Pendent opera interrupta. - - -

SHOULD some sam'd Hand, in this santastic Age, Draw Rich, as Rich appears upon the Stage, With all his Postures, in one motley Plan, The God, the Hound, the Monkey and the Man;

Here

Here o'er his Head high-brandishing a Leg,
And there just hatch'd, and breaking from his Egg;
While Monster crowds on Monster through the Piece,
Who could help laughing at a Sight like this?
Or as a Drunkard's Dream together brings
A Court of Coblers, and a Mob of Kings;
Such is a Sermon, where confus'dly dark,
Join Hoadly, Sharp, South, Sherlock, Wake, and Clarke.
So Eggs of different Parishes will run
'To batter, when you beat fix Yolks to one;
So fix bright chymic Liquors if you mix,
In one dark Shadow vanish all the fix.

This Licence Priests and Painters ever had,
To run bold Lengths, but never to run mad;
For these can't reconcile God's Grace to Sin,
Nor those paint Tygers in an Ass's Skin;
No common Dauber in one Piece would join
A Fox and Goose, - - - unless upon a Sign.
Some steal a Page of Sense from Tillotson,
And then conclude divinely with their own;
Like Oil on Water mounts the Prelate up,
His Grace is always sure to be at Too;
That Vein of Mercury it's Beams will spread,
And shine more strongly through a Mine of Lead.
With such low Arts your Hearers never bilk,
For who can bear a Fustian lin'd with Silk?

Sooner than preach such Stuff, I'd walk the Town, Without my Scarf in Whiston's draggled Gown; Ply at the Chapter and at Child's to read For Pence, and bury for a Groat a Head.

Some easy Subject chuse, within your Power, you will ne'er hold out for Half an Hour.

Still to your Hearers all your Sermons sort; Who'd preach against Corruption at the Court?

Against Church Pow'r at Visitations bawl?

Or talk about Damnation at Whitehall?

Harangue the Horse-guards on a Cure of Souls?

Condemn the Origins of Chancery at the Rolls?

Or rail at Hoods and Organs at St. Paul's?

Or be, like David Jones, so indiscreet,

To rave at Usurers in Londard-street?

Begin with Care, nor, like that Curate vile,

Set out in this high prancing stumbling Syle:

" Whoever with a piercing Eye can see,

"Through the past Records of Futurity"—
All gape, no Meaning:—the pust Orator
Talks much, and says just nothing, for an Hour.
Truth and the Text he labours to display,

Till both are quite interpreted away: So frugal Dames infipid Water pour,

Till Green, Bohea. or [20ffee are no more

His Arguments in giddy Circles run
Still round and round, and end where they begun:
So the poor Turnspit, as the Wheel runs round,
The more he gains, the more he loses Ground.
No Parts distinct, or general Scheme we find,
But one wild shapeless Monster of the Mind;
So when old Bruin teems, her Children fail
Of Limbs, Form, Figure, Features, Head or Tail;
Nay, though she licks the Ruins, all her Capes
Scarce mend the Lumps, and bring them lout to Bears.

Ye Country Vicars, when you preach in Town A Turn at Paul's, to pay your Journey down, If you would fhun the Sneer of every Prig, Lay by the little Band, and ruffy Wig:
But yet be fure, your proper Language know, Nor talk as born within the Sound of Bow.
Speak not the Phrase that Drawy-lane affords, Nor from 'Change-alley steal a Cant of Words.
Coachmen will criticise your Style, nay further, Porters will bring it in for wilful Murder;
The Dregs of the Canaille will look askew
To hear the Language of the Kown from you;
Nay, my Lord May'r, with Merriment posses, Will break his Nap, and laugh among the rest, And jog the Aldermen to hear the Jest.

CELEBRATED SONG
OF THE

ALL-Souls MALLARD.

RIFFIN, Buftard, Turkey, Capon, Land on the Bones their Stomach fall hard, ut let All-Souls Men have their Mallard.

Oh! by the Blood of King Edward, Oh! by the Blood of King Edward, It was a swopping, swopping Mallard. The Romans once admir'd a Gander More than they did their chief Commander: Because he sav'd, if some don't fool us, The Place that's call'd from the Head of Tolus. Oh! by the Blood, &c.

The Poets feign'd Youe turn'd a Swan, But let them prove it, if they can: As for our Proof 'tis not at all hard. For it was a swapping, swapping MALLARD.

Oh! by the Blood, &c.

Swapping he was from Bill to Eye; Swapping he was from Wing to Thigh a His Swapping Tool of Generation Out-swapped all the wing'd Creation: Oh! by the Blood, &c.

Therefore let us fing and dance a Galliard, To the Remembrance of the Mallard: And as the Mallard dives in Pool, Let us dabble, dive, and duck in Bowl. Oh! by the Blood of King Edward, Oh! by the Blood of King Edward, It was a swopping swopping Mallard.

EPIGRAM on an EPIGRAM.

NE Day in Christ-Church Meadows walking,
Of Poetry, and such Things talking,
Says Ralph, a merry Wag,
An Epigram, if right and good,
In all it's Circumstances shou'd
Be like a Jelly-Bag.

II.

Your Simile, I own, is new,
But how do'ft make it out, quoth Hugh?
Quoth Ralph, I'll tell thee Friend;
Make it at Top both wide and fit
To hold a Budget-full of Wit,
And point it at the End*.

A N

EPISTLE to Mr. ROBERT LOWTH,
In Imitation of Horace, Book ii. Epift. 19.

By the late Mr. Christopher Pitt.

IS faid, dear Sir, no Poets please the Town, Who drink mere Water, though from Helicon: For in cold Blood they seldom boldly think; Their Rhymes are more insipid than their Drink. Not great Apollo could the Train inspire, 'Till generous Bacchus help'd to san the Fire.

S'arre W

Warm'd by two Gods at once, they drink and write, Rhyme all the Day, and fuddle all the Night. Homer, says Horace, nods in many a Place. But hints, he nodded oftner o'er the Glass. Inspir'd with Wine old Ennius sung and thought, With the same Spirit, that his Heroes fought: And we from Jonson's Tavern-laws divine. That Bard was no great Enemy to Wine. 'Twas from the Bottle King deriv'd his Wit. Drank till he could not talk, and then he writ. Let no coif'd Serjeant touch the facred Juice. But leave it to the Bards for better Use: Let the grave Judges too the Glass forbear, Who never fing and dance but once a Year. This Truth once known, our Poets take the Hint. Get drunk or mad, and then get into Print: To raise their Flames indulge the mellow fit. And lose their Senses in the Search of Wit: And when with Claret fir'd they take the Pen. Swear they can write, because they drink, like Ben. Such mimick Swift or Prior to their Coft. For in the rash Attempt the Fools are lost. When once a Genius breaks through common Rules, leads an Herd of imitating Fools. If Pope, the Prince of Poets, fick a-bed, O'er Reaming Coffee bends his aching Head,

The Fools in publick o'er the fragrant Draught Incline those Heads, that never ach'd or thought. This must proyoke his Mirth, or his Disdain, Cure his Complaint, --- or make him fick again. I too, like them, the Poet's Path pursue, And keep great Flaccus ever in my View; But in a diffant View - yet what I write, In these loose Sheets, must never see the Light; Epistles, Odes, and twenty Trifles more, Things that are born and die in half an Hour. What! you must dedicate, says sneering Spence, This Year some new Performance to the Prince: Though Money is your Scorn, no doubt in Time, You hope to gain some vacant Stall by Rhyme; Like other Poets, were the Truth but known, You too admire whatever is your own. These wise Remarks my Modesty confound, While the Laugh rifes, and the Mirth goes round; Vext at the Jest, yet glad to shun a Fray, I whisk into my Coach, and drive away.

тне

LOWNGER.

Rise about Nine, get to Breakfast by ten,
Blow a Tune on my Flute, or perhaps make a Pen;
Read: Play 'till eleven, or cock my lac'd Hat;
Then step to my Neighbour's, till Dinner, to chat.
Dinner over, to Tom's, or to James's I go,
The News of the Town so impatient to know;
While Law, Locke, and Newton, and all the rum Race,
That talk of their Modes, their Ellipses, and Space,
The Seat of the Soul, and new Systems on high,
In Holes, as abstruse as their Mysteries, lye.

From

From the Coffee-house then I to Tennis away,
And at five I post back to my College to pray:
I sup before eight, and secure from all Duns,
Undauntedly march to the Mitre, or Tuns;
Where in Punch or good Claret my Sorrows I drown,
And toss off a Bowl, to the best in the Town:
At one in the Morning, I call what's to pay,
Then Home to my College I stagger away,
Thus I tope all the Night, as I triste all Day.

EPIGRAM, written by an Exciseman.

And addressed to a Young Lady, who was courted at the same Time by an Apothecary.

WHAT though the Doctor boasts to six
Your Mortar to his Pessle;
Are not my Inches every whit
As good to gage your Vessel?

A 'N

EPISTLE to Mr. SPENCE,

When Tutor to Lord MIDDLESEX.

In Imitation of Horace, Book i. Epist. 18.

By the late Mr. CHRISTOPHER PITT.

SPENCE, with a Friend you pass the Hours away In pointed Jokes, yet innocently gay: You ever differ'd from a Flatterer more, Than a chaste Lady from a flaunting Whore.

ſ

'Tis true you rallied every Fault you found,
But gently tickled, while you cur'd the Wound:
Unlike the paultry Poets of the Town,
Rogues who expose themselves for half a Crown;
And still impose on ev'ry Soul they meet
Rudeness for Sense, and Ribaldry for Wit:
Who, tho' half-starv'd, in spite of Time and Place,
Repeat their Rhymes, tho' Dinner stays for Grace:
And as their Poverty their Dresses sit,
They think of course a Sloven is a Wit:
But Sense (a Truth these Coxcombs ne'er suspect,)
Lies just 'twixt Affectation and Neglect.

One Step, still lower, if you condescend,
To the mean Wretch, the great Man's humble Friend;
That moving Shade, that Pendant at his Ear,
That two-legg'd Dog, still pawing on the Peer.
Studying his Looks, and watching at the Board,
He gapes to catch the Droppings of my Lord;
And tickled to the Soul at ev'ry Joke,
Like a press'd Watch, repeats what t'other spoke:
Echo to Nonsense! such a Scene to hear!
'Tis just like Punch and his Interpreter.

On Trifles some are earnestly absurd,
You'll think the World depends on ev'ry Word.---

What, is not ev'ry Mortal free to speak?

I'll give my Reasons, tho' I break my Neck--And what's the Question? --- if it shines or rains,

Whether 'tis twelve or fifteen Miles to Staines.

The Wretch reduc'd to Rags by ev'ry Vice, Pride, Projects, Races, Mistresses and Dice, The rich Rogue shuns, tho' full as bad as he, And knows a Quarrel is good Husbandry.

'Tis strange, cries Peter, you are out of Pelf,
I'm sure I thought you wiser than myself;
Yet gives him nothing---but Advice too late,
Retrench, or rather mortgage your Estate,
I can advance the Sum, ---'tis best for both, --But henceforth cut your Coat to match your Cloth.

A Minister, in mere Revenge and Sport, Shall give his Foe a paultry Place at Court. The Dupe for ev'ry royal Birth-day buys New Horses, Coaches, Cloaths, and Liveries; Plies at the Levee, and distinguish'd there Lives on the Royal Whisper for a Year; His Wenches shine in Brussels and Brocade; And now the Wretch, ridiculously mad, Draws on his Banker, mortgages and fails, Then to the Country runs away from Jails:

There

There ruin'd by the Court he sells a Vote To the next Burgess, as of old he bought; Rubs down the Steeds which once his Chariot bore, Or sweeps the Town, which once he serv'd before.

But, by this roving Meteor led, I tend Beyond my Theme, forgetful of my Friend. Then take Advice; I preach not out of Time, When good Lord Middlefex is bent on Rhyme.

Their Humour check'd, or Inclination croft, Sometimes the Friendship of the Great is lost. Unless call'd out to wench, be fure comply, Hunt when he hunts, and lay the Fathers by: For your Reward you gain his Love, and dine On the best Ven'son and the best French Wine: Nor to Lord  make the Observation. How the twelve Peers have answer'd their Creation. Nor in your Wine or Wrath betray your Trust, Be filent still, and obstinately just: Explore no Secrets, draw no Characters, For Echo will repeat, and Walls have Ears: Nor let a busy Fool a Secret know, A Secret gripes him till he lets it go: Words are like Bullets, and we wish in vain, When once discharg'd, to call them back again.

Defend, dear Spence, the honest and the civil,
But to cry up a Rascal—that's the Devil.
Who guards a good Man's Character, 'tis known,
At the same Time protects and guards his own.
For as with Houses, 'tis with Peoples Names,
A Shed may set a Palace all on Flames;
The Fire neglected on the Cottage preys,
But mounts at last into a general Blaze.

'Tis a fine Thing, some think, a Lord to know;
I wish his Tradesmen could but think so too.
He gives his Word —— then all your Hopes are gone:
He gives his Honour —— then you're quite undone.
His and some Women's Love the same are sound,
You rashly board a Fireship and are drown'd.

Most Folks so partial to themselves are grown, They hate a Temper diff'ring from their own. The grave abhor the gay, the gay the sad, And Formalists pronounce the witty mad: The Sot, who drinks fix Bottles in a Place, Swears at the Flinchers who refuse their Glass. Would you not pass for an ill-natur'd Man, Comply with ev'ry Humour that you can.

Your Time like him, and never lose a Day; From Hopes or Fears your Quiet to defend, To all Mankind as to yourself a Friend, And sacred from the World, retir'd, unknown, To lead a Life with Morals like his own.

When to delicious Pimperue I retire,
What greater Bliss, my Spence, can I desire?
Contented there my easy Hours I spend
With Maps, Globes, Books, my Bottle and a Friend.
There can I live upon my Income still,
E'en though the House should pass the Quakers Bill:
Yet to my Share should some good Prebend sall.
I think myself of Size to sill a Stall.
For Life or Wealth let Heav'n my Lot assign,
A sirm and even Soul shall still be mine.

(100,)

MORNING. An ODE.

The Author confined to College.

Scribimus inclusi. - - - - Pers. Sat. 1. V. 13.

ONCE more the vernal Sun's ambrofial Beams
The Fields, as with a purple Robe, adorn:
Charwell, thy fedgy Banks, and glift'ring Streams
All laugh and fing at mild Approach of Morn;
Thro' the deep Groves I hear the chaunting Birds,
And thro' the clover'd Vale the various-lowing Herds.

Up mounts the Mower from his lowly Thatch,
Well pleas'd the Progress of the Spring to mark,
The fragrant Breath of Breezes pure to catch,
And startle from her Couch the early Lark;
More genuine Pleasure sooths his tranquil Breast,
Than high-thron'd Kings can boast, in eastern Glory drest.

The pensive Poet through the Green-wood steals,
Or treads the willow'd Marge of murm'ring Brook;
Or climbs the steep Ascent of airy Hills;
There sits him down beneath a branching Oak,
Whence various Scenes, and Prospects wide below,
Still teach his musing Mind with Fancies high to glow.

(101)

But I nor with the Day awake to Bliss,

(Inelegant to me fair Nature's Face,

A Blank the Beauty of the Morning is,

And Grief and Darkness all for Light and Grace;)

Nor bright the Sun, nor green the Meads appear,

Nor Colour charms mine Eye, nor Melody mine Ear.

Me, void of Elegance and Manners mild,
With leaden Rod, stern Discipline restrains;
Stiff Pedantry, of learned Pride the Child,
My roving Genius binds in Gothic Chains;
Nor can the cloyster'd Muse expand her Wing,
Nor bid these twilight Rooss with her gay Carols ring.

On Miss POLLY FOOTE's

Unexpected Arrival at Oxford,
And Speedy Flight from thence, 1758.

ONG had fair Venus and her Son
Distress'd Minerva's darling Town
With Persecution jealous;
Of Belles so scanty was her Choice,
She scarce could furnish Toasts for Boys,
Or Wives for humbler Fellows,

 ${m Y}$

Yet Pallas all their Spleen defy'd,
And prudently the Loss supplied
Of such precarious Blisses:
Hence were her Sons more studious grown;
Her Discipline went smoother on,
'Mid Troops of homely Misses.

Cupid, who late had seen the Place,
Found they had quite mistook the Case,
That Books would grow in Fashion,
That dazzling Eyes and blooming Cheeks,
Could only tame those hardy Greeks,
And bring them to Submission.

Then fwift as Thought he flew to Town,
And Polly straight is order'd down;
The Champion of Beauty;
For well his Godship did devise,
That Polly's Charms and Polly's Eyes
Would be alert on Duty.

She came, and with each Grace complete,
From a Venetian Window's Height
Her Battery she play'd:
The fatal Slaughter who can tell,
What Troops of gazing Students fell,
Stretch'd o'er the smooth Parade?

(103)

Sage Folios, now a musty Heap,
In Chains and learned Darkness sleep,
All Logick's turn'd to Folly;
Each Student takes his Cap and Gown,
And runs through ev'ry Street in Town,
To catch a Look at Polly,

Who now can pedant Rules endure? —
"Go Boy, and bid the best Friseur,
"At Six precise be wi'me;"
My Hair in Wires exact and nice,
I'll trim my Cap to smallest Size,
That Polly sure may see me.

Nay e'en the Don his Pipe foregoes,
That Friend to Wisdom and Repose,
Left Polly be offended;
And Galen's sagest Sons will leave,
To dangle Hours at Polly's Sleeve,
Their Patients unattended.

See Churches are for sken too,

If Polly does not grace a Pew,

To keep grave Heads from sleeping:

Mad H-tch-nf-n-ns rave in vain,

The sad deserted Seats remain

For Prentice Boys to weep in.

(104)

Cupid, who stood at Polly's Side
Incog, and ev'ry Shaft supplied,
Laugh'd with insulting Malice,
To see how sure each Arrow slew,
How at each killing Glance she slew
Some fav'rite Son of Pallas.

Then to Jove's Court he wing'd his Way,
To tell the Triumphs of the Day,
And publish Polly's Glory;
But Pallas had that Morn been there;
And humbly fought of Jove to hear
The Hardships of her Story.

"That all her Sons were Rebels grown,
"No Books were read, no Rules were known;
"Her fav'rite Seat was undone:"
Her Plea was heard, 'twas Jove's Decree
That Iris should next Week convey Fair Polly back to London.

The CUSHION PLOT

Discovered by Dr. SHAW.

By H. B. Efq;

HEN Gaby Possession had got of the Hall, He took a Survey of the Chapel and All, Since that, like the rest, was just ready to fall.

Which nobody can deny.

And first he began to examine the Chest, Where he found an old Cushion which gave him Distaste; The first of the Kind that e'er troubled bis Rest.

Which nobody, &e.

Two Letters of Gold on this Cushion were rear'd;
Two Letters of Gold once by Gaby rever'd,
But now, what was Loyalty, Treason appear'd:
Which nobody, &c.

- "J. R. (quoth the Don, in Soliloquy bass)
- See the Works of this damnable Jacobite Race!
- "We'll out with the J, and put G in it's Place:"

 Which nobody, &c.

And now to erase these Letters so rich,

For Scissars and Bodkin his Fingers did itch,

For Converts in Politicks go thorough-stitch.

Which nobody, &c.

The Thing was almost as soon done as said,

Poor J was depos'd, and G reign'd in his Stead;

Such a quick Revolution sure never was read!

Which nebody, Ec.

Then hey for Preferment—But how did he flare, When convinc'd and asham'd of not being aware, That J stood for "JEMMET, for RAYMOND the R.

Which nobody, &c.

Then beware all ye Parents, from hence I advise, How ye chuse Christian Names for the Babes ye baptize, For if Gaby dont like 'em he'll pick out their J's. Which nobody can dere.

On LOPPING New-College LIME TREES.

WHILOM a Row of faucy Limes,
Planted, I ween, in luckless Times,
By fome ill-favour'd Bursar;
Like Upstarts vain, grew proud and tall,
And boldly perk'd it o'er the Wall,
No Trees look'd ever siercer.

But late for fundry Crimes arraign'd,
(Whether fome stripling Shrubs complain'd
These Rogues presum'd to slight 'em,
Or whether they were heard to prate
Of some sad Yews untimely Fate,
That once grew over-right 'em:

* The Benefactor who gave the Cushion.

(107)

Or if by Chance their Heads they shook, When tow'rds the Church they turn'd a Look,

And mourn'd the fad Conditions,

Of poor St. Peter's num'rous Dead,

That to their Graves were daily led,

Since fome Folks turn'd Physicians)

Whate'er the Cause, some angry Pow'r Resolv'd their daring Tops to low'r;

His murd'rous Mates affembled:
Oh! as the mangling Crew appears,
Arm'd with Ax, Hatchet, Saw, and Shears,
How ev'ry Dryad trembled.

Sore Cause, for ne'er in Grove of Oak

Did spendthrift Heir's unpity'd Stroke,
Such Butchery exhibit;

Each Arm they maim'd, each Head they tops.

Nor ever left a Limb unlopt,
To make the Dogs a Gibbet.

So looks the poor dismember'd Tar, Who late was Thunderbolt of War,

But fall'n in barb'rous Clutches; From mangling Hospital turn'd out, Maim'd, halt, and naked, limps about, To beg with Stumps and Crutches.

* St. Peter's Church, in the East, at Oxford.

Oh! how the fad fucceeding Year,
Will each kind Stranger's pitying Tear,
Our wond'rous Change bemoan;
To fee each Tree once green and tall
A shapeless Block become; and all
Our Hedge-rows turn'd to Stone.

But we, blest Minions, all our Days
Shall bask in Phæbus' warmest Rays,
No Shade can now controul us:
And should he chance to overheat us,
He by the same good Hand can treat us,
With gentle Purge to cool us.

E P I G R A M,

OXFORD TOAST,

With fine Eyes, and a bad Voice.

LUCETTA's Charms our Hearts surprise
At once with Love and Wonder;
She bears Jove's Lightning in her Eyes,
But in her Voice his Thunder.

(109)

A BALLAD,

To the Tune of To you fair Ladies now at Land.

Occasioned by a late Copy of Verses on Miss BRICKENDEN's going to Newnham by Water; in which were the following Lines:

- " The lofty Trees of Newnham's pendent Wood,
- " To meet her feem to rush into the Flood;
- " Peep o'er their Fellows Heads to view the Fair
- " Whose Name upon their wounded Barks they bear.
- "Repress your amorous Haste; the lovely Maid
- " In Person deigns to cheer the gloomy Shade."

Of ev'ry Muse the Theme;
Whose Presence decks with Flowers the Plain,
With Pride swells Isis' Stream;
May I presume you'll lend an Ear,
To me, your humble Sonneteer? — Fa, la.

But lest, my Fair, you think me cold,
Cry pish, and call me rude;
Or think that I dare be so bold,
My Passion to intrude;
It is not for myself I sue,
"Tis for some Trees that die for you. — Fa, la.

Since late on Isis' silver Flood
Your fatal Form was seen,
Some luckless Oaks of Newnham Wood,
Till then full fresh and green,
No more their verdant Honours spread,
But sigh for you, and hang their Head.—Fa, la.

'Tis faid, that with a Look most queer,

The Dotards peeping stood;

No Priest with more lascivious Leer,

Confessing Nun e'er view'd;

Nay that they rush'd into the Flood.

Were e'er such am'rous Sticks of Wood? — Fa, la.

How then can all your num'rous Band'
Of Lovers not despair;
When Hearts of Oak could not withstand

A Face so wond'rous fair?
Since in your Breast no Pity's found,
'Tho' Lovers hang, and Trees are drown'd.—Fa, la.

In Pity to your Wit, restrain

The Lightning of your Eyes;
Since at each Glance upon the Plain,
Some bleeding Forest dies:

If you proceed, my lovely Maid,
You'll ruin our poetic Shade.—Fa, la.

(111)

Well might the Poet's am'rous Song
Stile you the publick Care;
For all our Country 'Squires e'er long,
Will dread the passing Fair.
Think what will good Lord Harcourt do,
Now Newnham Woods are fir'd by you! —— Fa, la.

On a BEAUTY with ILL QUALITIES.

MIstaken Nature here has join'd
A beauteous Face and ugly Mind;
In vain the faultless Features strike,
When Soul and Body are unlike;
Pity those snowy Breasts should hide
Deceit, and Avarice, and Pride!

So in rich Jars from Chas brought, With glowing Colours gayly wrought, Oftimes the subtle Spider dwells, With secret Venom bloated swells, Weaves all his satal Nets within, As unsuspected, as unseen.

A SONG of SIMILIES.

By the Reverend Dr. BACON.

T'VE THOUGHT; the fair Clarissa cries:
What is it like, Sir?—Like your Eyes.
'Tis like a Chair—'Tis like a Key—
'Tis like a Purge—'Tis like a Flea—
'Tis like a Beggar—like the Sun—
'Tis like the Dutch—'Tis like the Moon—
'Tis like a Kilderkin of Ale—
'Tis like a Doctor—like a Whale.

Why are my Eyes, Sir, like a Sword?

For that's the Thought upon my Word.

Ah! witness ev'ry Pang'I feel;

The Deaths they give their Likeness tell.

A Sword is like a Chair, you'll find,
Because 'tis most an end behind.
'Tis like a Key, for 'twill undo one;
'Tis like a Purge, for 'twill run through one.
'Tis like a Flea, and Reason good,
'Tis often drawing human Blood.
Why like a Beggar you shall hear,
'Tis often borne before the Mayor.

'Tis like the Sun because 'tis gilt. Besides it travels in a Belt. 'Tis like the Dutch we plainly fee, Because that State, whenever we A Push for our own Int'rest make. Does instantly our Sides forfake. The Moon — Why when all's faid and done, A Sword is very like the Moon: For if his Majesty, (God bless him) When County Sheriff comes t' address him. Is pleas'd his Favours to bestow On him before him kneeling low, This o'er his Shoulders glitters bright, And gives the Glory to the Knight. [Night] Tis like a Kilderkin, no Doubt, For 'tis not long in drawing out. 'Tis like a Doctor, for who will Dispute a Doctor's Pow'r to kill? But why a Sword is like a Whale. Is no fuch easy Thing to tell. But fince all Swords are Swords, d'ye fee, Why let it then a Backsword be: Which, if well us'd, will feldom fail To raise up somewhat like a Whale.

An HUMOUROUS BALLAD.

By the Same.

Tune,-Abbot of Canterbury.

I'LL tell you a story, a story that's true,
A story that's dismal, and comical too;
It is of a Friar, who some people think,
Tho' as sweet as a nut, might have dy'd of a stink.

Derry down, down, hey derry down.

This Friar would often go out with his gun,
And tho' no great markiman, he thought himself one;
For tho' he for ever was wont to miss aim,
Still something but never himself was to blame.

Derry down, &c.

It happen'd young Peter, a friend of the Friar's, With legs arm'd with leather, for fear of the briars, Went out with him once, tho' it fignifies not Where he hired his gun, or who tick'd for the shot.

Derry down, &c.

Away these two trudg'd it, o'er hills and o'er dales, 'They popt at the partridges, frighten'd the quails; But, to tell you the truth, no great mischief was done, Save spoiling the proverb, as sure as a gun.

Derry down &c.

But at length a poor Snipe flew direct in the way, In open defiance, as if he would fay,

16 If only the Friar and Peter are there,

" I'll fly where I lift, there's no reason to fear."

Derry down, &c.

Tho' little thought he that his death was so nigh, Yet Peter by chance setch'd him down from on high; His shot was ramm'd down with a journal, I wist, The sirst Time he charg'd so improper with Mist.

Derry down, &c.

Then on both fides the speeches began to be made,

As—I beg your acceptance—O! no sir, indeed—
I beg that you would sir,—for both wisely knew,

That one Snipe could ne'er be a supper for two.

Derry down, &c.

What the Friar declin'd in a most civil fort, Peter slipt in his pocket; the de'el take him for't! But were the truth known, 'twould plainly appear, He oft times had found a longer bill there.

Derry down, &c.

Hid in his pocket the Snipe fafely lay,
While a week did pass over his head, and a day,
Till the ropes for a toast too offensive were grown,
And were smelt out by ev'ry nose but his own.

Derry down, &c.

H 2 The

The Friar look'd wholesome it must be agreed, So no one could say, whence the stink should proceed; Where the stink might be laid, tho' no one could say, 'Tis certain he brought it and took it away.

Derry down, &c.

At fight of the Friar began the perfume, And scarce he appeared but he scented the room: Snuff-boxes were held in the highest esteem, And all the wry Faces were made where he came.

Derry down, &c.

As the place he was in it was call'd this and that; In his room 'twas a close-stool, or else a dead rat; In the fields where he walk'd for some carrion 'twas' Twas a fart at the Angel and pass'd for a jest. [guest,

Derry down, &c.

At length the suspicion sell thick on poor Tray, Till he took to his heels and with speed ran away; Thought the Friar poor Tray I'll remember thee soon, If I live to grow sweet I'll give thee a bone.

Derry down, &c.

For he knew that poor Tray was most highly abus'd, And if any, himself, thus deserv'd to be us'd: For 'twas certainly he, whom else could he think; . 'Twas certainly he that must make all the stink.

Derry down, &c.

o when he came home he fat down on his bed, is elbow at distance supported his head; is body long while like a pendulum went; ut all he could do did not alter the scent.

Derry down, &c.

hus hipp'd he got up and pull'd off his cloaths, ie peep'd in his breeches and finelt to his hose, nd the very next morning fresh cloaths he put on, II, all but a waistcoat, for he had but one.

Derry down, &c.

nt changing his cloaths did not alter the cafe, nd so he stunk on for three weeks and three days; 'ill to send for a doctor he thought it most meet; or tho' he was not, yet his life it was sweet.

Derry down, &c

'he doctor he came, felt his pulse in a trice;
'hen crept at a distance to give his advice:
ut sweating, nor bleeding, nor purging would do, or instead of one stink this only made two.

Derry down, &c.

The friar oft-times to his glass would repair, sutto death he was frighten'd when e'er he came there; His eyes were so sunk, and he look'd so aghast, He verily thought he was slinking his last.

Derry down, &c.

So for credit he hastens to burn all his prose,
And into the fire his verses he throws;
When searching his pockets to make up the pile,
He sound out the Snipe, that had stunk all the while,
Derry down, &c.

So he hopes you will now think him wholfome again,
Since his waiftcoat difcovers the cause of his pain:
To conclude, the poor Friar intreats you to note,
That you might have been sweet had you been in his coat.

Derry down, &c.

S I M I L E,

From PHÆDRA and HYPPOLITUS.

S O when bright Venus yielded up her Charms,
The blest Adonis languish'd in her Arms:
His idle Horn on fragrant Myrtles hung,
His Arrows scatter'd, and his Bow unstrung.
Obscure in Coverts lay his dreaming Hounds,
And bay'd the fancy'd Boar with seeble Sounds;
For nobler Sports he quits the savage Fields,
And all the Heroe to the Lover yields.

The Same PARODIED.

O when bright Abigail refign'd her Charms,
The happy Curate languish'd in her Arms:
His unbrush'd Beaver on the Floor was tos'd;
His Notes were scatter'd, and his Bible lost.
In Alehouse hid his dreaming Clerk was found,
And rear'd the fancy'd Stave with seeble Sound:
For nobler Sheets his Concordance he leaves,
And all the Parson to the Lover gives.

ON THE

Expected Arrival of Queen CHARLOTTE,

In an Epistle to a Friend, 1761.

By a GENTLEMAN of OXFORD.

Containing the Sentiments, Images, Metaphors, Machinery, Similies, Allusions, and all other Poetical Decorations, of the OXFORD VERSES, which were to appear on that auspicious Occasion.

YES—every hopeful Son of Rhyme Will furely seize this happy Time, Vault upon Pegasus's Back,
Now grown an Academick Hack,
And sing the Beauties of a Queen,
(Whom, by the by, he has not seen;)
Will swear her eyes are black as jet,
Her teeth as Pearls in Coral set;
Will tell us that the Rose has lent
Her Cheek its Bloom, her Lips its Scent,
That Philomel breaks off her Song,
And listens to her sweeter Tongue;

That

(127)

That Venus and the Graces join'd
To form this Phœnix of her Kind,
And Pallas undertook to store
Her Mind with Wisdom's chiefest Lore:
Thus form'd, Jove issues a Decree
That George's Consort she shall be:
Then Cupid (for what Match is made
By Poets without Cupid's Aid?)
Picks out the swiftest of his Darts,
And pierces instant both their Hearts.

Your fearful Prose-men here might doubt How best to bring this Match about, For Winds and Waves are ill-bred Things. ! And little care for Queens and Kings; But as the Gods affembled fland. And wait each youthful Bard's Command, All fancy'd Dangers they deride, Of boist'rous Winds, and swelling Tide: Neptune is call'd to wait upon her, And Sea-Nymphs are her Maids of Honour; Whilst we, instead of eastern Gales, With Vows and Praises fill the Sails, And when, with due poetick Care They safely land the Royal Fair, They catch the happy Simile, Of Venus rising from the Sea.

Soon as she moves, the Hill and Vale. Responsive tell the joyful Tale; And Wonder holds th' enraptur'd Throng To fee the Goddess pass along; The bowing Forests all adore her. And Flow'rs spontaneous spring before her, Where you and I all Day might travel. And meet with nought but Sand and Gravel: But Poets have a piercing Eye, And many pretty Things can fpy. Which neither you nor I can fee, But then the Fault's in you and me. The King aftonish'd must appear, And find that Fame has wrong'd his Dear; Then Hymen, like a Bishop, stands, To join the Lovers' plighted Hands; Apollo and the Muses wait, The nuptial Song to celebrate. But I, who rarely spend my Time In paying Court or spinning Rhyme; Who cannot from the high Abodes, Call down, at will, a Troop of Gods; Must in the plain prosaick Way, The Wishes of my Soul convey. May Heaven our Monarch's Choice approve, May he be bleft with mutual Love,

And be as happy with his Queen, As with my Chloe I have been; When wand'ring through the Beechen Grove, She fweetly smil'd and talk'd of Love! And oh! that he may live to fee A Son as wife and good as he; And may his Confort grace the Throne With Virtues equal to his own! Our Courtly Bards will needs be telling. That she's like Venus or like Helen: I wish that she may prove as fair As Egremont and Pembroke are; For tho' by Sages 'tis confest, That Beauty's but a Toy at best; Yet, 'tis methinks, in married Life, A pretty Douceur with a Wife: And may the Minutes as they fly, Strengthen still the nuptial Tye, While Hand in Hand thro' Life they go, 'Till Love shall into Friendship grow; For tho' these Blessings rarely wait On regal Pomp, and tinfel'd State, Yet Happiness is Virtue's Lot, Alike in Palace and in Cot: 'Tis true, the grave Affairs of State, With little Folks have little Weight;

Yet I confess my Patriot Heart In Britain's Welfare bears its Part; With Transport glows at George's Name, And triumphs in its Country's Fame: With hourly Pleasure I can fit And talk of Granby, Hawke, and Pitt; And whilft I praise the Good and Brave, Disdain the Coward and the Knave. At Growth of Taxes others fret. And shudder at the Nation's Debt; I ne'er the fancied Ills bemoan. No Debts disturb me, but my own. What! tho' our Coffers fink, our Trade Repairs the Breach which War has made; And if Expences now run high, Our Minds must with our Means comply. Thus far my Politicks extend, And here my warmest Wishes end, May Merit flourish, Faction cease, And I and Europe live in Peace!

HAIL, mighty Goddes, whom of yore,
Where fam'd Cimmeria boasts her tenfold Gloom,
In those deep Caverns, from her lab'ring Womb
Imperial Dulness bore.
At the Signal of thy Birth,
O'er the Rue-besprinkled Earth,
Slowly fullen Spleen advances,
Sneering Laughter joins the Dances,
Swift from her Den exulting Envy springs,
New trims her faded Torch, and sharpens all her Stings,

Farewel, ye Visions light and vain,
The Delian Grove, with its enchanted Rill,
The cloven Summits of Parnassus' Hill,
Chimeras of the Brain.

This Poem appeared foon after the Publication of the Oxford
 Verses on the Death of his late Majesty.

No

(132)

No more such Follies I pursue—
Thee, sober-vested Queen, I woo;
Thy propitious Help imploring,
As by Midnight Taper poring,
With studious Care I mark some faulty Line,
Then curse the Theban Harp, or Homer's Work divine.

III.

Here in my hateful, lonefome Cell,
While Darkness spreads her murky Veil around,
When Pains corode, and stormy Passions wound,

With thee I wish to dwell.

Tho' Apollo bids despair,

Nor a Muse regards my Pray'r;

Still with ever constant Kindness,

Thou wilt footh my votive Blindness;

I feel, I feel the maddening Influence reigns,

The black Bile rushes on, and revels in my Veins.

IV.

Borne on the rapid Wings of Thought,
E'en now I feem, in thy extensive Shade,
Where baleful Yews o'ercome the sickening Glade,
To quaff the plenteous Draught,
And behold thy Realms comprise Learned Ignorant, and Wise,
All alike with hot Devotion,
Swallowing thy embitter'd Potion.

(133)

Fearless I take my self-commission'd Stand, To wield thy ruthless Sword with unrelenting Hand.

v.

Hear then, O hear my fond Request,
Whether in poor Verona's haples State,
Thou mourn'st thy Scaliger's neglected Fate,
With Anguish-laden Breast.

With Anguish-laden Breast.

Or with Rapture lov'st to view
Sourly smiling each Review;
Quickly haste to my Embraces,
Come, O come, in all thy Graces,
Where tuneful Oxford hails thy just Domain,
Where at thy Shrine attend her delegated Train.

· VI.

How shall I paint thy heavenly Charms!

In what high Praise my ardent Suit address!

Or how the glowing Flame shall I express

Which now my Bosom warms;

How describe the mazy Road,

Leading to thy blest Abode!

Where thou sit'st in State presiding,

Us ignoble Rhimers guiding

To where the Banks of Lethe's silent Wave,

Before our passive Steps disclose an early Grave.

VII.

Yet shall my feeble Lays presume,
Wrapt in ideal Extacies, to trace
The winning Features of thy lovely Face,
And its primeval Bloom.
Thou, a Silver-slipper'd Nymph,
Lightly tread'st the dimply Lymph,
With dank Sedge thy Tresses wreathing,
Modulated Measures breathing;
A Coral Crown thy Bright Brow Binds, I ween,
And down develves thy Sweeping Stole of Glossy Green,

VIII.

Oft, in nocturnal Serenade,

Anxious I wake my Lyre's discordant Strings,

Till the responsive Echo loudly rings

With thee, immortal Maid!

Ah! perchance my Hopes are vain——

Canst thou then with harsh Disdain,

* Alluding to the following Lines in Warton's TRIUMPH or ISIS:

And from the Wave arose its guardian Queen, Known by her sweeping Stole of glossy Green; While in the coral Crown that bound her Brow, Was wove the Delphic Laurel's verdant Bough. As the smooth Surface of the dimply Flood, The Silver-slipper'd Isis lightly trod.

Spurn my too officious Duty,
Self-enamour'd of thy Beauty;
And close thy stern, inexorable Heart,
lighting the Vow fincere, which wants the Gloss of Art.

IX

Hence, idle Fears—thou still art kind;
Low at thy Footstool bends my trembling Knee;
I sue, O Goddess, and I sue to thee,
To thy Behests resign'd.
No rejected Votary's moans
Taint the Air with severish Groans.
Where we rest, thy Charms enjoying,
Ever tasted, never cloying,
Widely thou pour'st thy all-dissure Rays, istant our kindling Souls with Fire congenial blaze.

X.

In Rhedycina's favour'd Seat,
Where richest Verse thy smould'ring Altar feeds,
With him some chosen Sage obedient leads,
To give Thee Homage meet.

False Surmises, hidden Flaws,
Old Grammarians crabbed Laws;
At thy Impulse while elated,
By thy Pleasure he unsated,
With his sell Pen from thy Tribunal bends,
s on the mangled Lines the frequent Blot descends.

When Autumn brought the lowering Year,

Fair Isis mingled with Britannia's Woe;

Meanwhile thou taught'st her Classic Plains to slow

O'er George's Grief-stain'd Bier.

How she mourn'd the Monarch dead,

Father of his Country sled,

Ill besits my trite Narration—

I in less exalted Station,

Stretch'd on the lifeless Couch of Indolence supine. XII.

Stupidly nod o'er Poefy so fine,

That Part to Thee we consecrate

Of the huge Wreath forfooth, which all the Nine,
With Skill united have conspir'd to twine.

A Fricassee of State!

'Twould make a Breakfast for a King;

Or should he feast on no such Thing

As See-saw Flattery, and his Spirit

Be coolly touch'd with so much Merit;

* Alluding to the following Lines in the concluding Copy of the OXFORD VERSES abovementioned, written by the Poetry Professor.

This ample Wreath, which all th' affembled Nine With Skill united have conspir'd to twine.

XIII.

Full many a Youth, whose opening Shoot Teem'd with Poetic Foliage, o'er whose Head Castalian Dews the gracious Muse has shed,

And promis'd riper Fruit;
Such the firm Decrees of Fate,
Such the Shortness of his Date,
With the Troop of Phantoms nameless,
In that pious Volume fameless,
Where the triumphant Clouds of Smoke aspire,
Sinks in Oblivion's Arms on the funereal Pyre.

XIV.

Far from the Terrors of thy Reign, Curb'd by thy Frown, audacious Genius flies; Or, if he impotently dares to rife,

Is levell'd to the Plain:

Nought avils his magic Art

'To avert thy vengeful Dart;

And his infolent emprifing;

Thou his vaunting Pow'r despising,

Eager his blasted Glories to consound,

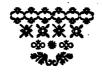

Strik'st him a breathless Corse, unpitying, to the Ground.

In one same constant Tenor run our Rhimes,
Like the sweet Musick of unvaried Chimes,
In distant due Delay;
Then our Vows thou deign'st to hear,

Accept

Accept this Present like a partial Friend! Else the rash Trisle justly might offend.

If e'er my Bosom caught the sacred Flame, Let me remember from what Source it came: Your Counsel bad me tread this arduous Way, And deign'd to form the rough mishapen Lay.

Here will I trace where first these Strains began E'er fleeting Childhood ripen'd into Man. Can I forget, while Memory holds her Reign, And summons forth her bright ideal Train, Beneath what * Auspices my earlier Age Imbib'd the Dictates of the good and Sage? No, gentle Ouse! for oft I lov'd to stray Where thy smooth Current winds its sedgy Way: Full to my View befide thy conscious Stream Coy Science thence disclos'd her kindling Beam; In wild Career spontaneous Numbers flow'd, As with a Heat, unfelt before, I glow'd. If, aught of Glory, Verse like mine can give, Thy Name recorded by the Muse shall live. To me far dearer than the boafted Groves Of proud Lyceum where Illissus roves: Though not a Wreath adorn thy modest Urn, In thy neglected Meads no Poet burn,

At the Reverend Mr. CLEAVER's, Father of the Gentleman to whom this Epiftle is addressed.

No Lover carve thy Praise on every Tree, With his Calista fondly joining thee.

Since Glory prompted, and I turn'd my Eyes To where the Hills of steep Parnassus rise; Since sketch'd by Hope the flattering Landschape grew, Ere Judgment check'd the Strokes which Fancy drew. Blindly I ventur'd on a feeble Wing, Struck the harsh Lyre, and tun'd th' unmeaning String-But when faint glimmering o'er the mighty Theme The Lamp of Genius vanish'd like a Dream. In Wisdom's loftier Spheres too weak too rise, Where wrapt in Clouds abstruser Science lies! Unskilful in the Jargon of the Schools, And little vers'd in mathematic Rules, With ardent Curiofity I fought What modern Art, what antient Nature taught; Saw Poetry expand a leafy Shoot To hide its fapless Trunk, and wasted Root; Obsetv'd Caprice exalt her light Abode, And mark'd the Sallies of the reigning Mode.

Some will object; " such Theme is quite misplaced;

Because forsoth I flaunt not in Brocade
To the Ridotto, Court, or Masquerade?
But hear unmov'd imperious Fashion's Call,
And bring no Surfeit from the midnight Ball,
Nor the slow, tedious, weighty Hours to kill,
All Day read Hoyle, all Night attend Quadrille;
They treat my Notions as th' absurd Pretence
Of one quite lost to Taste and common Sense.

Then let us fee—in Ages fo polite
Who's qualified to read, and who to write?
Say shall we (like the Game-Act) fix a Rate
By Privilege annex'd to such Estate;
Extol the sine-spun Verse his Lordship weaves,
And in Divinity adore Lawn-Sleeves?

Or shall we boldly level ev'ry Mound Admitting all to tread poetic Ground; And with a patriot Spirit for our Guide Extend the Limits of Parnassus wide, Allowing those who never yet could spell, To speak, praise, censure, nay to write as well?

Whether we visit, dress, or entertain,
Custom despotic reigns; — and let her reign.
But shall the Muses learn the Gait, the Dance,
With all the tawdry Nothingness of France;
Must they assume some new fantastic Shape,
And change their Habit with each modish Ape?
Shall He in literary Credit shine
Whose loose Adventures swell the Novel Line?
And shall the Man of Judgment's Tongue be mute,
Unless inur'd to quibble, and dispute?

Whoe'er would boaft a nice Discerner's Art Should feel with tender sympathizing Heart. Not by the Test of cold prosaic Laws Destraud Invention of its just Applause?

But where bold Nature's mimic Dress appears
Transported shudder at sictitious Fears;
Now pale with Grief, and now with Joy elate,
Bleed with the Vanquish'd; triumph with the Great
By each humane, heroic Passion tost,
And sink amid the dear Illusion lost.
This, this is he, whose vig'rous Soul can climb
Up with the Poet to the true Sublime:
Without Longinus' Aid his Soul it warms.
He wants no + Burke to tell why Beauty charms.

Thus the great Staggrite who taught the Road Thro' Learning's Paths to Glory's high Abode, Himself before, with animated Skill Dipp'd in Castalian Streams his glowing Quill, Nor by dim cloister'd Observation saw:
But, e'er enacted, he perform'd the Law;
To Virtue's Altar his bold Pæans reach, And emulate the Art he strove to teach:
His Tribute first the smiling Muse approv'd, Then gave her Sceptre to the Son she lov'd.

Fashion, who Arbiter of earthly Things Dignifies Beggars, or deposes Kings, At length ordains, (which none must disallow) That what was Reason once, is Folly now.

See Criticism advance, inspiring Awe; She stalks triumphant like some grand Bashaw: With, or without a Cause, from Systems free, Alters, consirms, reverses her Decree; Her thund'ring Fasces brandishes anew Guiding her own dear Critical Review. Fast by her Car in Iron Shackles bound Reluctant Genius kneels, and licks the Ground.

Think not I dare in these establish'd Times
Combat Dominion with presumptuous Rhimes,
And sceptically blind dispute the Chair
With those, who sit like Aristarchus there.
Less sanguine Thoughts my sober Wishes bound,
To tread secure, nor meet the threaten'd Wound:
For this once more my trembling Pen I draw,
And hail all Critics with respectful Awe.

My lifted Mirror hastens to display
The modern Poet issuing to the Day:
I ask not, whom; what Theme his Genius fires;
How sweet the Strains his fav'rite Muse inspires;
Whether he pace on strait-curb'd classic Steed,
Or mount the winged Pegasean Breed:
I would not tear him with a Vandal's Haster,
Nor yet, regarding his prepost'rous Fate,
Pity his Woes, and curse his ruling Star;
But coolly mention Matters as they are.

Privately

(146)

Privately cramm'd with more than friendly Praife, Shower'd to feed his ever-thirfting Lays; Hot with Impatience, which his Looks confess, The Youth commits his Writings to the Press: On Dryden's founding Pinions see him rise, Or range with Milton in ideal Skies; Eager he pants to reach the laurel Crown, Anticipating Years of long Renown.

Full soon he views the airy Fiction past,
For such Deliriums were not made to last.
Ere yet too late mistaken Bard retire,
Cease thy vain Dreams, nor san the hopeless Fire.
Or if thy patient Muse must needs design
To heap with Incense Glory's crowded Shrine,
An Ordeal more severe than that of Old
Expect:—nay shrink not;—but approach, behold!
See Apes of Taste with half-spawn'd Wits combine,
Weigh Word by Word, and murder Line by Line;
Here pining Envy frets; there Malice storms,
And Dulness rises in her thousand Forms.

To scape the Tempest's Rage we look around, Rejoic'd if but a Hovel can be found.

A Man no cowardly Poltroon I hold
Who rapt in Flannel shuns Norwegian Cold.
Then let us, as calm Prudence bids, obey,
And by her Guidance take the surer Way:

For fince nor Heav'n-taught Genius can avail, Nor Dint of Study turn the loaded Scale; How shall a puny Rhimer dare withstand Incens'd Stupidity's united Band?

'Twas thus departing Freedom at the Field Of lost Philippi saw her Squadrons yield. When civil Enmity her Banners tore, And Brutus shed the last of Roman Gore; With either Party Atticus allied Bow'd to the Triumphs of Oflavius' Pride; Formally wept at Freedom's closing Grave, Then hugg'd his Fetters like an abject Slave.

My Verse to thee submissive I resign;
Yes, mighty Dulness, I am wholly thine:
To teach me how to gain,—not merit, Praise,
And give, O give thy soporisic Bays;
Bind me a willing Captive in thy Chains,
And lead me, where Alliteration reigns:
Hard by thy Throne she waves her wond'roas Wand,
Wasting her balmy Blessings o'er the Land,
Where warbling Winds the pure pellucid Rill,
And soothing Sounds excluded Meaning kill.

Sick of this Homage I depart in Hafte, The labour'd Sameness palls my jaded Taste. Fretful I mutter " this is far too much—" I hate e'en Honour, should the Terms be such.

Almost bursting with Disdain,

- "Indeed I cannot," I enrag'd reply;
- " Let others handle Themes like these-not I."

Then what Afylum yet remains for me, Where Candor rules, and Poetry is free?

Say shall I steer to reach you fated Land,

Where frequent Wrecks deform the hostile Strand,

Where Dunce promiscuous rival Dunce engages,

And Mud with Mud eternal Battle wages; Or shall I fly, where noisy Tumults cease,

And feek the Dwellings of inglorious Peace,

Lock'd in the Bonds of happy Slumber fast,

To doze away Remembrance of the past;

Forgetful too that e'er my childish Tongue

With ravish'd Wonder lisp'd th' impersect Song; Content domestic Quiet to pursue,

And bid that false Coquette, the Muse, adieu?

Since Caution flumber'd when this rhyming Will

First bade me stain with Ink my hasty Quill;

Let her depart, and visit those who fear
The Critic's Lash, the Wit's contemptuous Sneer,
I cannot now superlatively wise
Perform what * Episteus would advise,
"Letting each dang'rous Enterprize alone
"Call unsubdued Security thy own."
Unfurl'd the Banner, and the Weapon cast,
All Hopes of Sasety in Retreat are past.

Should I should forth on Passard as a Fool

Should I stand forth on Record as a Fool,
My Maxims spurn'd, and cancell'd ev'ry Rule,
I will not yet implicitly abide
By what the People happen to decide.
Nor can I for my Life attentive sit
To praise each Species of new-fangled Wit;
Or dwell with Transport on the hobbling Rhimes,
The classic Cant of these poetic Times.

Far be the odious Antiquary's Frown Who aims to pull all living Merit down, Who churlishly belies the present Days, When he bewails with an invidious Praise, (To give Detraction's Venom freer Scope) All Genius buried in the Grave of Pope.

But shall each Mushroom-Being of a Day Usurp an insolent oppressive Sway; Inhuman Plunderers by Rapine sed, Rake up the Ashes of the mighty Dead, And conjure forth some vet'ran Poet, drest (Supersiuous Toil) in Fashion's gorgeous Vest.

Tir'd of the Crowds, and Noise of Lombard-Street
Thus when the Cit obtains a Country Seat;
Where in uncircumbscrib'd Extent was drawn
Magnificently large the various Lawn,
He bounds to measur'd Space the formal Square,
Or gives Proportion to th' exact Parterre:
Wonderful Industry! in Pipes convey'd
Here sputters down the regular Cascade,
There, draggled on in Beauty's vaunted Line,
Behold the muddy Trench—a Serpentine.

Tell me no more how Sbakespear's Lines express
Th' inimitable Feelings of Distress.
When Romeo hastes to sleeping Julies's Tomb,
Or injur'd Lear bewails his wretched Doom.
Where are those tragic Scenes renown'd of old,
In native Strength irregularly bold;
Those genuine Tints with which that Master drew
Expressive Nature to our dazzled View?
All, all are vanish'd. He whose ample Mind
No rigid Learning's slavish Rules consin'd,

O'er trackless Regions wont at large to soar : Now cramp'd in Trammels of Theatric Lore, His Seat usurp'd by more than Gothic Lust, Shorn of his Plumes lies groveling in the Duft. Privy to Juliet's counterfeited Death, We wait the Hour that shall restore her Breath: With Hope, with Fear, with fond Impatience burn. 'Till absent Romeo speed his wish'd Return: Here must we stop; - and while in due Array The stale Procession sweeps the tedious Way, Conspiring Shouts of thronging Galleries join; "Indeed this Shakespear is prodigious fine!" See frantic Lear in hopeless Grief distrest, And warm Compassion melt each generous Breast: Now hastes th' unravell'd Drama to its Close. And Death breaks off the Tenor of his Woes. Can we behold without indignant Rage The Monarch re-enthron'd upon the Stage: And Shakespear's Plan revers'd to bid him live? Such is the Crown our wife Correctors give. A juster Title shall the Muse bestow On these Destroyers of the Tragic Woe: Who'er the Author of so black a Deed. In her august Tribunal 'tis decreed To judge his Cruelty more hateful still Than the barbarian Wiles of Gonerill.

While

While many a Wretch who bears the Poet's Name. Deaf to the Voice of Reason, and of Fame. Meerly to furbish out some paultry Scene, New patches Otway with deform'd Racine, Besmears with foreign Sauce coarse English Ware, Or like a Russian pillages Voltaire; The heavenly Muse alone unpinion'd sings, Nor stoops to these imaginary Kings; She opens honest Truth's obstructed Source. Points Satire's Edge, and wings her Javelin's Force. Some think, " on Insects crush'd without a Foe.

- " That Justice idly hurls her weighty Blow.
- " So short, so fleeting their allotted Date,
- " Why urge a Playwright's necessary Fate,
- " O'er their high Crest Oblivion spreads her Rod,
- " Soon are the Footsteps vanish'd where they trod,
- "They and their Farces mixing with the Wind,
- " All disappear, nor leave a Wreck behind,
- "Where plung'd in Chaos many a Fathom deep
- " Myriads of Frenchified Abortions sleep. Yet if these Plagiaries exalted high On borrow'd Fame's weak Pedestals rely; Wherefore on Mortals desperately brave Lavish that Mercy which they never gave? When Crops so rank, exub'rant Dulness yields, Who weilds the Critic's Falchion nobly weilds.

Defigns like these my Pencil rudely plan'd,
The Execution asks an abler Hand.
Enough for me, if in these nameless Shades,
Far from the Mansions of Aonia's Maids,
Ingenuous Truth her artless Charms display,
And steady Reason guide the temper'd Lay:
Or shewn by strong Imagination's Light
Ages far distant crowd the mental Sight,
When Rousseau tells the happy State of Man
By Priestcraft forg'd ere Right Divine began?
Ere Tyrants claim'd the sovereign Throne of God,
And crush'd the Nations with an Iron Rod.

IMITATION of SPENSER.

I.

A Well known Vase of sovraign Use I sing,
Pleasing to Young and Old, and Jordan hight.
The lovely Queen, and eke the haughty King
Snatch up this Vessel in the murky Night:
Ne lives there poor, ne lives there wealthy Wight,
But uses it in mantle brown or green;
Sometimes it stands array'd in glossy white;
And est in mighty Dortours may be seen
Of China's fragile earth, with azure Flowrets sheen.

II.

The Virgin comely as the dewy Rose,
Here gently sheds the softly-whisp'ring Rill;
The Frannion, who ne Shame ne Blushing knows,
At once the Potter's glossy Vase does fill;
It whizzes like the Waters from a Mill,
Here frouzy Housewives clear their loaded Reins;
The Beef-fed Justice, who fat Ale doth swill,
Grasps the round-handled Jar, and tries, and strains,
While slowly dribbling down the scanty Water drains.

An Excellent BALLAD.

To the Tune of Chewy-Chace.

Hilome there dwelt near Buckingham,
That famous Country Town,
At a known Place, hight Whaddon Chace,
A Squire of odd Renown.

A Druid's facred Form he bore, His Robes a Girdle bound: Deep vers'd he was in antient Lore, In Customs old, profound.

A Stick torn from that hallow'd Tree, Where Chaucer us'd to fit, And tell his Tales with leering Glee, Supports his tott'ring Feet.

High on a Hill his Mansion stood,
But gloomy dark within;
Here mangled Books, as Bones and Blood
Lie in a Giant's Den.

Crude, undigefted, half-devour'd,
On groaning Shelves they're thrown;
Such Manuscripts no Eye could read,
Nor Hand write—but his own.

No Prophet He, like Sydrophel, Could future Times explore; But what had happened, he could tell, Five hundred Years and more.

A walking Alm'nack he appears, Stept from fome mouldy Wall, Worn out of Use thro' Dust and Years, Like Scutcheons in his Hall.

His Boots were made of that Cow's Hide, By Guy of Warwick flain; Time's choicest Gifts, aye to abide Among the chosen Train.

Who first receiv'd the precious Boon, We're at a Loss to learn, By Spelman, Cambden, Dugdale, worn, And then they came to Hearne.

Hearne, strutted in them for a while;
And then, as lawful Heir,
Brown claim'd and seiz'd the precious Spoil,
The Spoil of many a Year.

His Car himself he did provide, To stand in double Stead; That it should carry him alive, And bury him when dead. By rufty Coins old Kings he'd trace, And know their Air and Mien: King Alfred he knew well by Face, Tho' George he ne'er had feen.

This Wight th' outfide of Churches lov'd, Almost unto a Sin; Spires Gothick of more use he prov'd Than Pulpits are within.

Of use, no doubt, when high in Air,
A wand'ring Bird they'll rest,
Or with a Bramin's holy Care,
Make Lodgments for its rest.

Ye Jackdaws, that are us'd to talk,

Like us of human Race,

When nigh you see Brown Willis walk,

Loud chatter forth his Praise.

Whene'er the fatal Day shall come,
For come, alas! it must,
When this good 'Squire must stay at home,
And turn to antique Dust;

The folemn Dirge, ye Owls, prepare, Ye Bats, more hoarfly fcreak; Croak, all ye Ravens, round the Bier, And all ye Church-mice, squeak!

DIALOGUE

BETWEEN

The POET and his SERVANT.

In Imitation of HORACE, Sat. ix. Book ii.

By the late Mr. CHRISTOPHER PITT.

Serv. SIR,—I've long waited in my turn, to have ...
AWord with you—but I'm your humble Slave.
Poet. What Knave is that? My Rafcal!

Servant. Sir, 'tis I,

No Knave, nor Rascal, but your trusty Guy.

Poet. Well, as your Wages still are due, I'll bear.
Your damn'd Impertinence, this Time of Year.

Serv. Some Folks are drunk one Day, and some for ever,

And some, like W, but twelve Years together.

Old Evremond renown'd for Wit and Dirt,

Would change his Living oft'ner than his Shirt;

Roar with the Rakes of State a Month, and the To starve another in his Hole at Home.

So rov'd wild Buckingham, the publick Jest,

Now some Inn-holder's, now'a Monarch's Guest;

L

His Life and Politicks of ev'ry Shape,
This Hour a Roman, and the next an Ape.
The Gout in ev'ry Limb from ev'ry Vice,
Poor N hir'd a Boy to throw the Dice.
Some wench forever;—and their Sins in those
By Custom sit as easy as their Clothes.
Some sly like Pendulums from good to evil,
And in that Point are madder than the Devil:
For they——

۲.

Poet. To what will these wise Maxims tend?

And where, sweet Sir, will your Reslections end?

Servant. In you.

Poet. In me, you Knave? make out your Charge.

Serv. You praise low living, but you live at large.

Perhaps you scarce believe the Rules you teach,
Or find it hard to practise what you preach.

Scarce have you paid one idle Journey down,
But without Business you're again in Town.

If none invite you, Sir, abroad to roam,
Then—Lord, what Pleasure 'tis to read at home!

And sip your two Half-pints with great Delight
Of Beer at Noon, and muddled Port at Night.

From Encombe, John comes thund'ring at the Door,
With—Sir, my Master begs you to come o'er,
To pass these tedious Hours, these Winter Nights;

Not that he dreads Invasions, Rogues, or Sprites.—

Strait

Strait for your two best Wigs aloud you call, This stiff in Buckle, that not cur'ld at all. And where the Devil are the Spurs? you cry, And Pox! what Blockhead laid the Buskins by? On your old batter'd Mare you'll needs be gone, (No matter whether on four Legs or none) Splash, plunge, and stumble, as you scour the Heath, All swear at Morden 'tis on Life and Death: As fierce thro' Wareham Streets you scamper on, Raise all the Dogs and Voters in the Town; Then fly for fix long dirty Miles as bad, That Corfe and King ston Gentry think you mad. And all this furms Riding is to prove Your high Respect, it seems, and eager Love: And yet that mighty Honour to obtain, Banks, Shaftsbury, Dodington, may send in vain. Before you go, we curse the Noise you make, And bless the Moment that you turn your Back. Meantime your Flock depriv'd of heav'nly Food, As we of carnal, starve and stray abroad: Left to your Care by Providence in vain, You leave them all to Providence again. As for myself, I own it to your Face, I love good Eating, and I take my Glass: But fure 'tis strange, dear Sir, that one should be In you Amusement, but a Crime in me.

All this is bare refining on a Name. To make a Difference where the Fault's the same. My Father fold me to your Service here. For this fine Livery and four Pounds a Year. A Livery you should wear as well as I, And this I'll prove,-but lay your Cudgel by. You serve your Passions. Thus without a Jest Both are but Fellow-Servants at the best. Yourself, good Sir, are play'd by your Defires, A meer tall Puppet dancing on the Wires. Poet. Who at this Rate of talking can be free? Serv. The brave, wife, honest Man, and only he: All else are Slaves alike, the World around, Kings on the Throne, and Beggars on the Ground. He, Sir, is Proof to Grandeur, Pride, or Pelf, And (greater still) is Master of himself: Not to and fro' by Fears and Factions hurl'd. But loose to all the Interests of the World: And while the World turns round, entire and whole He keeps the facred Tenour of his Soul; In every Turn of Fortune still the same, As Gold unchang'd, or brighter from the Flame: Collected in himself, with godlike Pride, He fees the Darts of Envy glance afide; And fix'd like Atlas, while the Tempests blow, Smiles at the idle Storms that roar below.

One fuch you know, a Layman to your Shame,
And yet the Honour of your Blood and Name.

If you can fuch a Character maintain,
You are too free,—and I'm your Slave again.
But when in Brun's feign'd Battles you delight
More than myself to see two Drunkards fight,
Fool, Rogue, Sot, Blockhead, or such Names are mine,

Yours are a Connoisseur, or deep Divine. I'm chid for loving a luxurious Bit, The facred Prize of Learning, Worth, and Wit: And yet some sell their Lands these Bits to buy; Then pray who fuffers most from Luxury! I'm chid, 'tis true; but then I pawn no Plate, I seal no Bonds, I mortgage no Estate. Besides high Living, Sir, must wear you out With Surfeits, Qualms, a Fever, or the Gout. By some new Pleasures are you still engross'd, And when you fave an Hour you think it loft. To Sports, Plays, Races, from your Books you run, And like all Company except your own. You hunt, drink, fleep, or (idler still) you rhyme: Why?-but to banish Thought, and murder Time. And yet that Thought which you discharge in vain, Like a foul loaded Piece, recoils again.

Poet. Tom, fetch a Cane, a Whip, a Club, a Stone,— Servant. For what?

Poet. A Sword, a Pistol, or a Gun. I'll shoot the Dog.

Serv. Lord, who would be a Wit? He's in a mad, or in a rhyming Fit.

Poet. Fly, fly, you Rascal, for your Spade and Fork; For once I'll set your lazy Bones to work. Fly, or I'll send you back without a Groat To the bleak Mountains where you first were caught.

LAW-STUDENT.

To George Colman, A. M. of Ch. Ch. Oxford.

Quid tibi cum Cirrbá? quid cum Permessidos undá?

Romanum propius divitiusque Forum est. MARTIAL.

OW Christ-Church left, and fixt at Lincoln's Inn,
Th' important Studies of the Law begin.
Now groan the Shelves beneath th' unusual Charge
Of Records, Statutes, and Reports at large.
Each classic Author seeks his peaceful Nook,
And modest Virgil yields his Place to Coke,
No more, ye Bards, for vain Precedence hope,
But even Jacob take the Lead of Pope!

While the pil'd Shelves fink down on one another, And each huge Folio has it's cumb'rous Brother, While, arm'd with these, the Student views with Awe His Rooms become the Magazine of Law, Say whence so few succeed? where thousands aim, So few e'er reach the promis'd Goal of Fame? Say, why Cæcilius quits the gainful Trade For Regimentals, Sword, and smart Cockade?

Or Sextus why his first Profession leaves
For narrower Band, plain Shirt, and pudding Sleeves?

The Depth of Law asks Study, Thought, and Care; Shall we seek these in rich Alonzo's Heir? Such Diligence, alas! is seldom found In the brisk Heir to forty thousand Pound. Wealth, that excuses Folly, Sloth creates, Few, who can spend, e'er learn to get Estates. What is to him dry Case, or dull Report, Who studies Fashions at the Inns of Court; And proves that Thing of Emptiness and Show, That Mungrel, half-form'd Thing, a Temple-Beau? Observe him daily sauntring up and down, In purple Slippers, and in silken Gown; Last Night's Debauch, his Morning Conversation; The Coming, all his Evening Preparation.

By Law let others toil to gain Renown!

Florio's a Gentleman, a Man o'th' Town.

He nor Courts, Clients, or the Law regarding,

Hurries from Nando's down to Covent-Garden.

Yet he's a Scholar;—mark him in the Pit

With Critic Catcall found the Stops of Wit!

Supreme at George's he harangues the Throng,

Cenfor of Stile from Tragedy to Song:

Him

(169)

Him ev'ry Witling views with secret Awe, Deep in the Drama, shallow in the Law.

Others there are, who, indolent and vain, Contemn the Science, they can ne'er attain: Who write and read, but all by Fits and Starts, And varnish Folly with the Name of Parts; Trust on to Genius, for they scorn to pore, 'Till e'en that little Ganius is no more.

Knowledge in Law Care only can attain,
Where Honour's purchas'd at the Price of Pain.
If, loit'ring, up th' Ascent you cease to climb,
No Starts of Labour can redeem the Time.
Industrious Study wins by slow Degrees,
True Sons of Coke can ne'er be Sons of Ease.

There are, whom Love of Poetry has smit, Who, blind to Interest, arrant Dupes to Wit, lave wander'd devious in the pleasing Road, With Attic Flowers and Classic Wreaths bestrew'd: Wedded to Verse, embrac'd the Muse for Life, and ta'en, like modern Bucks, their Whores to Wise. Where'er the Muse usurps despotic Sway, all other Studies must of Force give Way. nt'rest in vain puts in her prudent Claim, Nonsuited by the pow'rful Plea of Fame.

As ever jumble Wit and Law together.
On Littleton, Coke gravely thus remarks,
(Remember this, ye rhyming Temple Sparks!)

"In all our Author's Tenures, be it noted,
"This is the fourth Time any Verse is quoted."
Which, 'gainst the Muse and Verse, may well imply
What Lawyers call a Noli Prosequi.

NEW-YEAR's - GIFT.

Presented with a Pair of

SILK STOCKINGS,

To Miss Bell Cooke, of Eton.

I.

To please the Fair, in courtly Lays
The Poet plays his Part,
One tenders Snuff, Another Praise,
A Tooth-pick or a Heart.

II.

Alike They all, to gain their End.

Peculiar Arts disclose,

While I, submissive, only send

An bumble Pair of Hose.

III.

Long may they guard from Cold and Harm,
The snowy Legs that wear 'em,
And kindly spread their Instuence warm
To every Thing that's near 'em.

M

IV.

But let it not be faulty deem'd,

Nor move your Indignation,

If I a little partial feem

In Gift or Commendation.

v.

Each fair Perfection to display
Would far exceed my Charter;
My modest Muse must never stray

VI.

And who did e'er a Bafis view
So worthy to be prais'd?
Or from so fair Foundation knew
So fine a Fabrick rais'd?

VII.

Thou learned Leech, fage •••• fay,
Since spite of Drugs and Plaisters,
You now can talk the live-long Day
Of Pillars and Pilasters;

VIII.

You that for Hours have row'd about,

Thro' Halls and Colonades,

And fcarce would deign to tread on aught

But Arches and Arcades;

(179)

IX.

Did you in all your mazy Round
Two nobler Pillars view?
What yielding Markle e'er was found.
So exquisitely true?

The swelling Dome with stately show May many Fancies please;

I view, content, what lies below—
The Cornice and the Frieze.

XI.

The beauteous Twins fo fair, fo round,

That bear the noble Pile,

Must fure proceed from Venus' Mount,

Or from * Cythera's Ille.

·XIF.

Propitious Fates, preserve 'em safe,
And keep 'em snug together,
And grant they may the Malice brave
Of Man as well as Weather.

Two Places from whence the Ancients brought Materials for their most poble Structures.

XIII.

From luckless Love, or Rancour base; May never Ill attend 'em; And grant, whatever be the Case,
That I may still defend 'em.

XIV.

By gentle, gen'rous Love, 'tis true,
They never can miscarry;
Nor Damage come, nor Loss ensue,
From honest, harmless Harry:

XV.

But should a Knight of greater Heat
Precipitate invade,
Believe me, Bell, they then may need
Some seasonable Aid:

SIGNATURE of LOVE.

A DESCRIPTIVE PASTORAL.

In the Modern Style.

BEneath the Shadows of a glimmering Oak,
Where confcious Meads in foft Delufion broke,
And ancient Murmurs, tremblingly awake,
Repel the neighbouring Coolness of the Brake;
Two Swains, reclining, footh'd th'enamour'd Tongue,
And thus, with fragrant Vows, their Pipes they strung.

STREPHON.

In every Grove the various Floods combine; A thousand Beauties bask upon the Line; The solemn Breezes emulate the Day; But Chloe is the Subject of my Lay.

CORYDON.

Let Thunder, fick'ning, fmile upon the Ground, And mazy Beams reflect a dawning Sound; Let lofty Ecchoes on Meanders throng; But Phillis is the Burden of my Song.

M 3 STREPHON

STREPHON.

Chloe's to me more fair than azure Sight;
More for than Heifers melting into Light:
O come, ye Swains, and leave th' enamel'd Morn;
The mostly Garlands rival your return.

CORYDON.

My Phillis, wond'ring, strives the Heat to pierce, And smiles precarious through the gay Reverse: Ye Hills and Dales that chear the verdant Sand, Bear me where ages float at her Command.

STREPHON.

My Love, regardless of the vernal Main, Like Honey blushing, variegates my Pain; And, like the Bee, she smooths the mantled Green; Soft as the Stars, and as the Hills serene.

CORYDON.

My Love is like the rural Seats above; The Canopy of Fate is like my Love; My Love is like the Deep, in Purple dreft, And all Ambrofia warbles in her Breaft.

STREPHON.

Now tell me, Corydon, and Chloe take, What Thing is that, by Kings expell'd the Lake, Whose airy Footsteps faded as they grew, Produc'd in Silence, yet alive in blue?

CORYDON.

(183)

CORYDON.

First tell me, Strephon, and be Phillis thine, What Thing is that so daringly divine, By Reason feather'd, and by Nature prest, Refulgent, doubled, trebled, and unblest?

MENALCAS.

Enough, enough—2O Shepherds, your Delay Retards the fleecy Partners of the Spray; See, from yon Cloud impending Mirrors rife! See how the Vallies wanton in the Skies! From Wave to Wave reluctant Shades appear, Revolving Swans proclaim the Welkin near, And aid the breathing Surface of the Year.

Sophocl. Elect. 50

HIS Country's Hope, when now the bloor Heir,
Has lost the Parent's, or the Guardian's Care;
Fond to possess, yet eager to destroy,
Of each vain Youth, say, what's the darling Joy?

GF each rash Frolic what the Source and End, fole and first Ambition what? ---- to spend. Some 'Squires to Gallia's Cooks devoted Dupes, Whole Manors melt in Sauce, or drown in Soups: Another doats on Fiddlers, till he fees His Hills no longer crown'd with tow'ring Trees; Convinc'd too late that modern Strains can move, Like those of ancient Greece, th' obedient Grove: In headless Statues rich, and useless Urns, Marmoreo from the classic Tour returns. -But would ye learn, ye leifure-loving 'Squires, How best ye may disgrace your prudent Sires; How foonest foar to fashionable Shame. Be damn'd at once to Ruin --- and to Fame: By Hands of Grooms ambitious to be crown'd, O greatly dare to tread Olympic Ground! What Dreams of Conquest slush'd Hilario's breast, When the good Knight at last retir'd to Rest! Behold the Youth with new-felt Rapture mark Each pleasing Prospect of the spacious Park: That Park, where Beauties undisguis'd engage. Those Beauties less the Work of Art than Age; In simple State where genuine Nature wears Her venerable Dress of ancient Years: Where all the Charms of Chance with Order meet. The Rude, the Gay, the Graceful and the Great.

Here aged Oaks uprear their Branches hoar,
And form dark Groves, which Druids might adore;
With meeting Boughs, and deepening to the View,
Here shoots the broad umbrageous Avenue:
Here various Trees compose a chequer'd Scene,
Glowing in gay Diversities of Green:
There the full Stream thro' intermingling Glades
Shines a broad Lake, or falls in deep Cascades.
Nor wants there hazle Copse, or beechen Lawn,
To chear with Sun or Shade the bounding Fawn.

And see the good old Seat, whose Gethic Tow'rs Awful emerge from yonder tufted Bow'rs: Whose rafter'd Hall the crowding Tenants fed, And dealt to Age and Want their daily Bread. Where crested Knights, with peerless Damsels join'd At high and folemn Festivals have din'd; Presenting oft fair Virtue's shining Task. In mystic Pageantries, and moral Mask. But vain all ancient Praise, or Boast of Birth. Vain all the Palms of old heroic worth! At once a Bankrupt, and a prosperous Heir. Hilario bets. --- Park, House, dissolve in Air. With antique Armour hung, his trophied Rooms Descend to Gamesters. Prostitutes, and Grooms. He fees his feel-clad Sires, and Mothers mild. Who bravely shook the Lance, or sweetly smil'd,

Il the fair Series of the whisker'd Race,

Those pictur'd Forms the stately Gallery grace;

bebas'd, abus'd, the Price of ill-got Gold,

o deck some Tavern vile, at Auctions sold.

The Parish wonders at th' unopening Door,

The Chimnies blaze, the Tables groan, no more.

Thick Weeds around th' untrodden Courts arise,

and all the social Scene in Silence lies.

Simfelf, the Loss politely to repair,

'urns Atheist, Fiddler, Highwayman, or Play'r.

At length, the Scorn, the Shame of Man and God, doom'd to rub the Steeds that once he rode.

Ye rival Youths, your golden Hopes how vain, four Dreams of Thousands on the listed Plain!

Not more fantastic Sancho's airy Course,
When madly mounted on the magic Horse*,
He pierc'd Heav'ns opening Spheres with dazzled Eyes,
And seem'd to foar in visionary Skies.

Nor less, I ween, precarious in the Meed,
Of young Adventurers on the Muse's Steed;
For Poets have, like you, their destin'd Round,
And Ours is but a Race on classic Ground.

Long Time, the Child of patrimonial Eafe, Hippolitus had carv'd Sirloins in Peace:

[·] Clavileno. See Don Quixote, B. ii. Chap. 41.

Had quaff'd secure, unvex'd by Toil or Wife, The mild October of a private Life: Long liv'd with calm domestic Conquests crown'd, And kill'd his Game on safe paternal Ground: And, deaf to Honour's or Ambition's Call. With rural Spoils adorn'd his hoary Hall. As bland he puff'd the Pipe o'er weekly News His Bosom kindles with sublimer Views. Lo there, thy Triumphs, Taaffe, thy Palms, Portmore! Tempt him to stake his Lands and treasur'd Store. Like a new Bruiser on Broughtonic Sand, Amid the Lists our Hero takes his Stand: Suck'd by the Sharper, to the Peer a Prey, He rolls his Eyes that " witness huge Dismay;" When lo! the Chance of one inglorious Heat. Strips him of genial Cheer, and snug Retreat. How awkward now he bears Disgrace and Dirt, Nor knows the Poor's last Refuge, to be pert. The shiftless Beggar bears of Ills the worst. At once with Dulness and with Hunger curst. And feels the tasteless Breast Equestrian Fires, And dwells fuch mighty Rage in graver 'Squires?' In all Attempts, but for their Country, bold, Britain, thy CONSCRIPT COUNSELLORS behold; (For Some perhaps, by Fortune favour'd yet, May gain a Borough, from a lucky Bet,)

Smit with the Love of the laconic Boot. The Cap, and Wig succinct, the filken Suit, Mere modern Phaetons, usurp the Rein, And fcour in rival race the tempting Plain. See, fide by fide, the Jockey and Sir John Discuss th' important Point—of Six to One. For oh! the boasted Privilege how dear, How great the Pride, to gain a Jockey's Ear! See, like a routed Host, with headlong Pace, Thy Members pour amid the mingling Race! All ask, what Crouds the Tumult could produce-Is Bedlam, or the Commons all broke loose? Their Way nor Reason guides, nor Caution checks, Proud on a well-bred Thing to rifque their Necks.— Thy Sages hear, amid th' admiring Croud Adjudge the Stakes, most eloquently loud: With critic Skill, o'er dubious Bets prefide, The low Dispute, or kindle, or decide: All empty Wisdom, and judicious Prate. Of distant'd Horses gravely fix the Fate: And with paternal Care unwearied watch O'er the nice Conduct of a daring Match.

Meantime, no more the mimic Patriots rise, To guard Britannia's Honour, warm and wise: No more in Senates dare affert her Laws, Nor pour the bold Debate in Freedom's Cause:

Neglect the Counsels of a finking Land, And know no Roftrum, but New-Market's Stand. Is this the Band of Civil Chiefs design'd On England's Weal to fix the pondering Mind? Who, while their Country's Rights are fet to Sale, Ouit Europe's Ballance for the Jockey's Scale. O fay, when least their sapient Schemes are crost. Or when a Nation, or a Match is loft? Who Dams and Sires with more exactness trace. Than of their Country's Kings the facred Race: Think London Journies are the worst of Ills; Subscribe to Articles, instead of Bills: Strangers to all our Annalists relate, Theirs are the Memoirs of th' Equestrian State: Who lost to Albion's past and present Views, HEBER*, thy Chronicles alone peruse.

Go on, brave Youths, till in fome future Age, Whips shall become the Senatorial Badge; Till England see her thronging Senators Meet all at Westminster, in Boots and Spurs; See the whole Honse, with mutual Frenzy mad, Her Patriots all in Leathern Breeches clad: Of Bets, not Taxes, learnedly debate, And guide with equal Reins a Steed and State.

^{*} Author of an Historical List of the Running-Horses, &c.

How would a virtuous * Houbnbym neigh Dissain,
To see his Brethren brook th' imperious Rein;
Bear Slavery's wanton Whip, or galling Goad,
Smoak through the Glebe, or trace the destin'd Road;
And robb'd of † Manhood by the murderous Knise,
Sustain each fordid Toil of servile Life.
Yet oh, what Rage would touch his generous Mind,
To see his Sons of more than human Kind;
A Kind, with each exalted Virtue blest,
Each gentler feeling of the liberal Breast,
Afford Diversion to that Monster base,
That meanest Spawn of Man's Half-monkey Race;
In whom Pride, Avarice, Ignorance, conspire,
That hated Animal, a Yaboc-Squire.

How are the Therons of these modern Days, Chang'd from those Chiefs who toil'd for Grecian bays; Who sir'd with genuine Glory's sacred Lust, Whirl'd the swift Axle through the Pythian dust. Theirs was the Pisan Olive's blooming Spray, Theirs was the Theban Bard's recording Lay. What though the Grooms of Greece ne'er took the odds? They won no Bets—but then they soar'd to Gods; And more an Hiero's Palm, a Pindar's Ode, Than all th' united Plates of Grorge bestow'd.

Greece! how I kindle at thy magic Name,
Feel all thy warmth, and catch the kindred Flame.
Thy Scenes fublime, and aweful Visions rife,
In ancient Pride before my musing Eyes.
Here Sparea's Sons in mute Attention hang,
While just Lycurgus pours the mild Harangue;
There Xerxes' Hosts, all pale with deadly Fear,
Shrink at her fated * Hero's stashing Spear.
Here hung with many a Lyre of silver String,
The laureate Alleys of Iliss spring:
And lo, where rapt in Beauty's heavenly Dream
Hoar Plato walks his oliv'd Academe.——

Yet ah! no more the Land of Arts and Arms, Delights with Wisdom, or with Virtue warms. Lo! the stern Tark, with more than Vandal Rage, Has blasted all the Wreaths of ancient Age: No more her Groves by Fancy's Feet are trod, Each Attic Grace has left the lov'd abode. Fall'n is fair Greece! by Luxury's pleasing Bane Seduc'd, she drags a barbarous foreign Chain.

Britannia watch! O trim thy withering Bays, Remember thou hast rivall'd Grecia's Praise, Great Nurse of Works divine! Yet oh! beware Lest thou the sate of Greece, my Country, share.

^{*} LEONIDAS.

Recall thy wonted Worth with conscious Pride,
Thou too hast seen a Solon in a Hyde;
Hast bade thine Edwards and thine Henries rear
With Spartan Fortitude the British spear;
Alike has seen thy Sons deserve the Meed
Or of the moral or the martial Deed.

EPITAPH

To the pie-house Memory of Nell Batchelor, Oxford Pye-Woman.

I.

HER E deep in the Dust,
The mouldy old Crust,
Of Nell Batchelor lately was shoven;
Who was skill'd in the Arts
Of Pies, Puddings, and Tarts,
And knew ev'ry Use of the Oven.

II.
When she'd liv'd long enough,
She made her last Puff,
A Puff by her Husband much prais'd;
Now here she doth lie,
And makes a dirt Pye,
In hopes that her Crust will be rais'd.

THE CASTLE BARBER'S SOLILOQUY.

Written in the late WAR.

Who with such Success—alas! till
The War came on—have shaw'd the Castle;
Who by the Nose, with Hand unshaken,
The boldest Heroes oft have taken;
In humble Strain, am doom'd to mourn
My Fortune chang'd, and State forlorn!

My Soap scarce ventures into Froth, My Razers ruft in idle Sloth ! Wisdom *! to you my Verse appeals: You share the Griefs your Barber feels: Scarce comes a Student once a whole Age, To flock your desolated College. Our Trade how ill an Army suits! This comes of picking up Recruits. Lost is the Robber's Occupation, No Robbing thrives - but of the Nation: For hardy Necks no Rope is twifted, And e'en the Hangman's self is listed. Thy Publishers, O mighty Yackson! With scarce a scanty Coat their Backs on, Warning to Youth no longer teach, Nor live upon a Dying Speech. In Caffock clad, for want of Breeches-No more the Caftle-Chaplain preaches. Oh! were our Troops but safely landed, And every Regiment disbanded! They'd make, I trust, a new Campaign On Henley's Hill, or Campsfield's Plain: Destin'd at Home, in peaceful State, By me fresh-shaw'd, to meet their Fate!

[•] The Governor of Oxford-Cafile.

Regard, ye Justices of peace!
The Castle Barber's piteous Case:
And kindly make some saug Addition,
To better his distrest Condition.
Not that I mean, by such Expressions,
To soave your Worships at the Sessions;
Or would, with vain Presumption big,
Aspire to comb the Judge's Wig:
Far less ambitious Thoughts are mine,
Far humbler Hopes my Views consine.
Then think not that I ask amiss;
My small Request is only this,
That I, by Leave of Leigh or Pardo,
May, with the Castle—soave Bocardo.

Thus, as at Jesus oft I've heard, Rough Servitors in Wales preferr'd, The Joneses, Morgans, and Ap-Rices, Keep Fiddles with their BENEFICES.

IMITATION of HORACE.

Icci, beatis nunc Arabum invides
Gazis, &c. L. I. Ode xxix.

Say, gallant Youth, what well-known Name
Shall spread the Triumphs of your Fame
Through all the Realms of Drury?
How will you strike the gaping Cit?
What Tavern shall record your Wit?
What Watchmen mourn your Fury?

What sprightly Imp of Gallic Breed
Shall have the Culture of your Head,
(I mean the outward Part)
Form'd by his Parent's early Care
To range in nicest Curls the Hair,
And wield the Puff with Art?

GIVE Ear, and a comical Story I'll tell,
'Tis of an old Doctor you know very well,
Who, tho' grave as a Saint, got drunk as all Hell.
Tol de rol, lol, &c.

It was on a Sunday, as all have agreed; For the Doctor he held it a Part of his Creed, That the better the Day, the better the Deed.

He sat, and he drank, and he toasted old Cripsey, But he never suspected he e'er should grow tipsey, He bung'd cum seipso 'till he was not seipse.

And when he had gotten as drunk as ten Bears,
He put on his Surplice, and stagger'd down Stairs,
Tho' not able to speak, yet resolv'd to read Pray'rs.

To the Desk then he came, and bow'd low on each Side, I will rise and go to my Father, he cry'd; But stumbled and prov'd that he damnably lied.

To the Pfalms then he got, but would you know how, He spew'd on King David, and likely I trow, For he was as drunk as was David's old Sow.

To the Collects he got then, with great Hesitation, While the Company all were in great Expectation, Instead of a Pray'r came an Ejaculation.

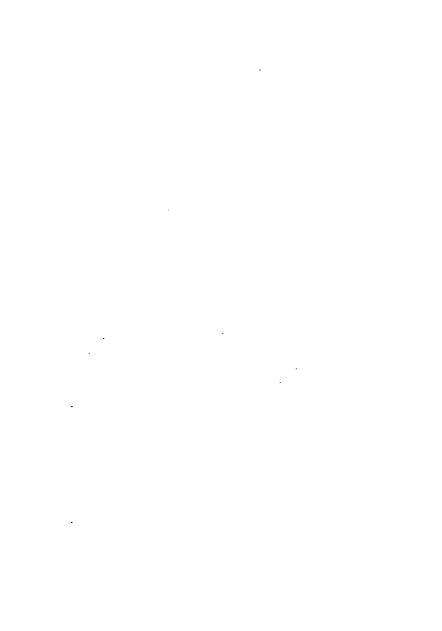

And now with respect to the Gown and the Band, How bravely must slourish the Church of this Land, Supported by Pillars not able to stand!
